SURPRISED HIS FRIENDS.

An ex-governor in Rhode Island married in Massachusetts.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 20.—"Honest John" W. Davis, the Democratic ex-governor of Rhode Island, who filled the office for two years beginning in 1887 went over to Swansea, Mass., last night and was quietly married. Even his bride was Miss Mary Etta Pierce, who for some time past has filled the position of critic teacher in the Providence public schools. She is more than 50 years old. The ex-governor is in his 60th year.

His engagement to Miss Pierce was kept a profound secret. Even his brother, Darius N. Davis, a merchant of this city, did not know about it until this morning. After the ceremony the ex-governor and Mrs. Davis went to Boston and they will leave that city for a California trip today.

Ex-Governor Davis has two adult daughters. He was the first Democrat elected to the governorship in Rhode Island in forty years.

A VALUABLE CONCESSION.

Railway to be Built in Costa Rica by the Keith Syndicate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—United States Minister Baker, writing to the state department from San Jose, Costa Rica, says that the government has granted a large and valuable concession of lands to the Keith syndicate, chiefly made up of British, who will construct a railway in Costa Rica and open up a new and valuable section of the country.

Over $1,000,000 of the internal debt of the country has been paid recently, but the payment of interest on the foreign debt has ceased, the country asserting that it cannot stand the immense drain of $102,000 annually, and proposing that the foreign holders reduce the principal and interest by one-half.

A Denver Woman Insane.

DENVER, Feb. 20.—William E. Scott, president of the Scott Machine and Hardware Manufacturing company, has confessed that he is unable to control his denominated wife and today she was placed in the county hospital. Mrs. Scott is the woman who has been sending telegrams to President Cleveland at Washington, calling on him for protection against her imaginary enemies. A few weeks ago she violently assaulted Governor McIntyre's private secretary.

Rates May Be Slashed.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 20.—A meeting of general passenger agents of Texas railroads began here today. If matters of rates are not settled, slashing of passenger rates are expected.

IOWA FARMERS SURPRISED.

Co-operative Creameries Held Subject to the Income Tax.

NEW HAMPTON, Iowa, Feb. 20.—The decision of the collector of internal revenue for this district that co-operative creameries are subject to the provisions of the new income tax law has caused quite a surprise in this section where creameries are almost as numerous as school houses.

The officers find it almost impossible to make the reports. The milk is gathered from house to house among the members, taken to the factory, made into butter and sold. The entire receipts, less cost of manufacture, are divided pro rata among those furnishing the milk.

There is no market value of milk at the farms here, except that made by its sale as butter after it leaves the creamery, so any value placed upon the milk less than the price of the butter, less the cost of making for the purpose of showing a profit for taxation would be a tax upon labor. This is the view the creamery managers are taking, and it is difficult to see where there will be any return from this source.

Thrown Into the River.

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 20.—East bound freight No. 38 ran into a rock slide in a canon, three miles east of Bristol, a station on the Northern Pacific between Clealum and Ellensburg, overturning the engine and six cars in the river. brakeman Fittmeyer is missing. Engineer Hendricks is badly cut about the head and brakeman Stanley Reide seriously hurt.

Shipwrecked Crew Arrives.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Fourteen members of the crew of the Ward line steamer Cienfuegos, stranded at Harbor island, arrived today from Nassau per steamer Anita, among them being its Chief Officer Smith, Purser Ansel and Chief Engineer McLaughlin. The chances for saving the steamer were reported good should the weather continue favorable.

Merged Into a Club.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—The delegation of laboring men sent to the World's fair at Chicago by the French labor unions to collect economic and political information was last evening merged into a club with the object of maintaining international relations between the American and French labor unions.

New Wyoming Road.

DENVER, Feb. 20.—The Colorado, Wyoming & Great Northern railroad company, composed of citizens of Grand Junction, Colo., has placed $3,000,000 stock and bonds and will build a broad gauge railroad from Grand Junction to Green River, Wyo., 210 miles, this year.

PROGRESS MADE

The Duluth Normal School Bills Have Been Advanced a Stage in Both Houses Today.

Spencer's Bill Reported Without Recommendation and Will go on General Orders in the Senate.

The House Normal School Committee Has Finally Decided to Report the McInnis Bill Favorably.

Senator Potter Introduced a New Bill in Regard to Penalties on Unpaid Realty Taxes.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 20.—The Duluth normal school bills have been advanced a stage in both houses. The Spencer bill was reported in the senate from the finance committee this morning without recommendation, but the fact of such report places the bill on general orders and it will be considered in committee of the whole. The McInnis bill, in the house, is still in the hands of the normal school committee, but that committee will hold a long session to report to the house with a favorable recommendation, and the report will probably be made tomorrow morning.

There are other bills pending in the house for normal schools at Crookston, Pipestone and Litchfield, but action on these has been deferred. They have not the ground for their claim that Duluth has, and stand a poorer show of passage. Still the fact that such bills are pending will militate against the Duluth bill in both houses.

THE DOINGS OF THE HOUSE.

Three Duluth Bills Recommended by Judiciary Committee to Pass.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 20.—Owing to the required visit of the legislative committee to St. Cloud reformatory and the insane hospitals at Rochester and St. Peter, there was a slim attendance in the house this morning. Freeborn county citizens petitioned for woman suffrage, several others on the same subject following from other counties. Mr. Underleaf moved the consideration of S. F. 61, fixing the penalty for grand larceny, the first degree, wiping out the minimum penalty, and offered an amendment for a saving clause in the bill, after which the bill was amended to read, receiving four less than enough to pass.

Chairman Underleaf, of the judiciary committee, presented the following bills: H. F. 146, Cant, relating to redemption from tax sales, to pass as amended; H. F. 101, Cant, repealing special law, Western Land association, to pass as amended.

H. F. 301, Johns, relating to interest and usury, to pass as amended. The amendment makes interest 6 instead of 7 per cent and wipes out the proposed provision to forfeit only excess interest.

H. F. 244, J. M. Smith, fixing time for holding terms of court in the Eleventh judicial district. To pass as amended. The three Duluth bills were amended in minor points on title, etc. The following bills were introduced:

Mr. Feig, to establish maximum freight rates for common carriers on coal, lead, copper or iron ore, where shipped in car load lots; excess rate being 50 cents per ton for first 100 miles. The bill is the same as that introduced in the senate by Senator Knutvid.

Mr. Tallman, to prohibit appropriation of public money to private or sectarian purposes. Judiciary.

Mr. Robbins, to exempt elevators located at certain railway yards from inspection of city scales of weights and measures. Judiciary.

Mr. Mullen, relative to licenses for dogs. Judiciary.

Mr. Johns, garnishment proceedings in district courts. Judiciary.

Mr. Johns, to authorize a county to make returns on delinquent personal taxes. Taxes.

Mr. Littelton, to amend general laws 1878 relating to verdict on questions of fact. Judiciary.

Mr. Gunn, to detach Beltrami county from Becker and attach to Itasca county for all purposes. Judiciary.

Mr. Parker, to amend laws of 1878 relating to counter claims. Judiciary.

Mr. Reeves, to amend general laws 1878 relating to organization of townships. Judiciary.

Mr. Metcalf, to provide for filing and recording wills in certain cases. Judiciary.

Mr. Underleaf, to amend laws of 1881 for encouragement of secondary education. Education.

Mr. Cant, to facilitate traffic in wheat and other grain and seed and to establish the rights and liabilities of factors and purchasers from factors upon the open market. Grain and warehouse.

J. M. Smith, relating to rights of surviving husband or wife in real estate. Judiciary.

section of chapter 65, general statutes 1878 as amended.

THE SENATE'S PROCEEDINGS.

Another Tax Penalty Bill Introduced by Senator Potter.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 20.—So many senators were off on junkets this morning that there was barely a quorum present at roll call, and no important business could be transacted. In fact, the attendance was so slim that when a bill came up for passage it was necessary to skirmish all over the building to get the required two-thirds vote.

Senator Potter introduced another tax bill. It is somewhat modified from the original bill and in effect it has 5 per cent penalty on unpaid real estate to go into effect June 1, and the other 5 per cent to go into effect Oct. 1. This keeps the penalty the same but allows it to be paid at two different times, the January penalty of 5 per cent remaining as at present. Senator Potter believes that it can get this bill through.

Senator Stevens, from the judiciary committee, reported S. F. 364 to be indefinitely postponed. It exempted bank presidents from jury duty.

Senator Sperry, from the special committee on binding twine plant at Stillwater, reported the result of his investigations with a resolution which were ordered printed.

Senator Morgan, from the finance committee, reported with amendments Senator Stebbins' bill providing for the establishment of a fourth hospital for the insane. The amendments were adopted.

S. F. 30 was reported without recommendation. It is the bill providing for a normal school at Duluth, and it went on general orders. When the calendar was reached it was found that there was but one bill which could be taken up, and that was S. F. 107, which prohibits the sale of liquor in original packages in no license districts. The bill passed.

Senator Fuller was in the chair when the senate went into committee of the whole. S. F. 72, coming from Senator Wyman, and abolishing days of grace, was killed. Adjourned until tomorrow.

EXTRA SESSION IN MARCH.

Intimation Made by President Cleveland to Mr. Towne Today.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative elect Towne called on President Cleveland today and in the course of a conversation the president intimated that he would call congress together in extra session on March 15.

The secretary of the interior has received notice of the withdrawal of the appeal of George R. Stuart, deputy surveyor, from the decision of the commissioner rejecting his survey of townships 50 and 60 north, range 11 west, in the case of the state of Minnesota.

A recess of pension was today granted to Charles E. McLaughlin, of Anoka, Minn.

DAVIS STANDS FIRM.

Refuses to Have the State's Rights Endangered by Baldwin's Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Baldwin had a conference with the secretary of the interior to devise some means of the construction of a bridge over the sale of Chippewa pine. Senator Davis, however, still refuses to allow this bill to pass until the state's right to the school lands in these reservations is settled.

LI HUNG CHANG'S SCHEME.

He Wants to Overthrow the Manchu Dynasty in China.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—A dispatch from Shanghai printed here this afternoon says it is positively asserted that the journey of Li Hung Chang to Pekin is intended to give some chance to accommodation of a bridge over the overthrow of the present Manchu dynasty in China.

Li Hung Chang will begin his journey to Pekin tomorrow. The same dispatch also says that Kung, the ex-taotai of Port Arthur, has made a confession showing the traitorous designs of Li Hung Chang.

It is stated that Li Hung Chang has been leagued with the officials of the palace at Pekin for the overthrow of the dynasty ever since he was deprived of his yellow jacket and peacock feather and lost various offices.

Wants a Revision.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—A motion has been submitted by ex-judge Dillon, counsel for the estate of the late Jay Gould, before Surrogate Fitzgerald, to have the report of Referee David McClure, estimating the value of the Gould estate at $80,934,534.79, sent back for revision with the object of having certain commissions and expenses deducted so that the transfer tax might be reduced. This tax, on the original appraisal, amounting to $600,000, is to be increased $200,000 in consequence of the re-appraisal.

Privileges Suspended.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 20.—Today's Bourse Gazette announces that the free port privileges of Vladivostok, the Russian port and naval station on the northern Pacific ocean, will not hereafter be granted to arrivals from Aden, the British port in Arabia.

To Be Opened for Settlement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Secretary Hoke Smith has approved the report of the appraisers who examined the lands in the abandoned Fort Bridger military reservation in Wyoming. It contains 10,941 acres and will be opened to settlement under the homestead law.

Oil Prices Advanced.

TOLEDO, Feb. 20.—The standard advanced Ohio oil 2 1/2 cents today, the price now being 57 1/2 cents per barrel for South Lima and 62 1/2 cents for North Lima.

WHO IS INSANE?

The Query Put by Judge Smith When Mr. Erwin Raised the Question of Insanity.

All Evidence Tending to Show Adry Hayward Was Resting Under a Delusion Ruled Out.

The Mother of Harry on the Stand to Help the Establishing of the Alibi.

Skater at Lake Calhoun Tells of Hearing Two Shots Fired the Night of Dec. 3.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 20.—Horace L. Weld, paying teller of the City bank, and Louise Ireland were the witnesses at the opening of the Hayward case today. Weld testified to having paid Harry Hayward between $6000 and $7000 after Sept. 1, 1894, thus accounting for the defendant's possession of money that did not come from Miss Gine. Miss Ireland was re-called and questioned by the defense as to Harry's calling at the flat on days preceding and on the day of the murder.

The defense called Frank Springfield, who, in company with the witness Miss Gine Brown, was skating on Lake Calhoun the night of the murder. During the greater part of the evening they skated near the Lurline boathouse. They had been there some fifteen minutes when, he says, he heard two shots fired over towards the tamarack swamp. His testimony agreed with that of Gine Brown, who has heretofore testified. They were overtaken before they reached Hennepin avenue by young Erhardt going for a doctor.

Mr. Nye questioned him closely in regard to the time he reached the lake and the length of time that intervened between his arrival and the firing of the shots. He thought he reached the lake about 7:30 and it was about fifteen minutes later he heard the shots fired. The witness was asked to give a description of the two men he saw on the boulevard, but his description was imperfect and not minute enough to be of use in the case.

Mrs. Adry Hayward was put on the stand at 11 o'clock. Her testimony simply bore on the question of the time Harry Hayward called at Adry's flat on the night of the murder, which she could not fix definitely and the time she and Adry left to go to her parents' house, which she amended was a Canadian Indian, 65 years old. He was a scout in the late war and drew a pension of $12 a month from the government. He was said to have been a member of a Grand Army post.

SERIOUS TROUBLE IN FORMOSA.

Report of an Explosion in Which Two Thousand Soldiers Perished.

HONG KONG, Feb. 20.—The information from the island of Formosa, since the sudden departure on Feb. 18 of the British cruiser Mercury, upon the receipt of information that the notorious robbers known as Black Flags were committing outrages and the British residents were in need of urgent help, has been meager, but what has been received shows the situation is as serious as the first dispatches indicated.

Reports have arrived today that the disturbances on the island are increasing and have become so bad that the merchants are alarmed and are leaving. It is also reported here that an explosion of the forts of Lakao, a treaty port on the southwestern coast of the island, was at first understood to be of a comparatively trivial character, was terrible in its results.

It is now said that the explosion killed 2000 Chinese soldiers attached to the forts and injured many others. A squadron of Japanese warships is patrolling the island.

EXCEEDS THE LEGAL LIMIT.

Attack Made by Vice President Stevenson on a California Assessment.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—A suit has been commenced in the superior court here in which Vice President Stevenson is one of the plaintiffs. The suit is an injunction to restrain the collector of the East Riverside irrigation district from making the final transfer of certain lands in that district which had been sold for a delinquent assessment.

Some of the land belongs to the vice president, some to Rowena Stevenson and part of it to other owners. In all there is about $500,000 worth of property, which was sold in February, 1894, and the time for redemption of which had almost expired.

The injunction is sought to be made permanent on the ground that the assessment was in excess of that permitted by law, and that the property owned by the plaintiffs was not correctly described in the assessment. The amount of delinquent taxes is $5000.

On an Ice Floe.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—A tug was sent to the rescue today of two men who were sighted about six miles from the shore floating on a small ice floe. The men were supposed to be either venturists or skaters or sailors from a wrecked boat who were attempting to make their way to land.

Her Whereabouts a Mystery.

ASTORIA, Ore., Feb. 20.—The British ship Dunraggan, which was off the bar, days ago and was blown out of her course, has not as yet been sighted off the Columbia river. Her whereabouts is a mystery though no unusual alarm is felt for her safety.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 20.—Among the documents filed with the secretary of state yesterday were the printed by-laws of the Shaw Iron company, Mountain Iron company, Adams Mining company, Biwabik Mountain Iron company, Great Northern Mining company, Missabe and Northern Townsite company. The Rathbun Iron Mining company filed amendments to its by-laws.

The directors of the Rathbun Iron Mining company filed with the secretary of state yesterday their acceptance of the provisions of chapter 51, general laws of 1881, relating to the taxation of mining companies.

Fire at Belmont.

BELMONT, Wis., Feb. 20.—Yesterday morning fire was discovered in the dry goods store of Henry Roscher. It soon spread to the saloon of Coy & McGuigan and both buildings were consumed. Loss is a mystery though no unusual alarm is felt for her safety.

was valued at $4500; insurance, $1500. Coy & McGuigan's loss will reach $2000; insurance, $1500.

LUMBERMEN ARE HAPPY.

The Snowfall Has Put Them in Good Spirits.

GRANTSBURG, Wis., Feb. 20.—A light fall of snow yesterday replenished the logging roads and again the lumbermen are happy. The large amount of burned timber amounting to 100,000 feet is now certain to be barked, thereby retaining its full value, where if it stood over summer it would be almost an entire loss.

The difficulty that now confronts the lumbermen is to keep their crews, for as the mild weather comes the snow thaws and forms ice with the several inches of ashes that cover the entire burned districts. This ice eats the men's hands and feet, rendering them unable for work and making it very difficult for loggers to keep full crews.

CHAMPION RIFLE SHOT.

A Winona Man Who Has Broken the World's Record.

WINONA, Minn., Feb. 20.—In the person of A. J. VanDeusen, Winona virtually has the champion rifle shot of the world.

At 200 yards range, Mr. VanDeusen yesterday scored 234 out of a possible 250, topping the world's record by six points. He is a member of the Buckeye gun club and also of the Sharpshooters' organization of this city. VanDeusen took fourth place in the World's fair contest at Chicago in 1893 which was open to all comers.

AMERICAN HORSE BURIED.

Funeral of a Full Blooded Indian in New York City.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—American Horse, the full blooded Indian, who died at his New York home on Broome street, was laid to rest last night in a lonely grave in Evergreen cemetery. Although American Horse, whose civilized name was Thomas Dibeats, was a Roman Catholic, there were no religious ceremonies either at the house or grave.

Father Chris, of St. Alphonsus church, attended the old man during his last illness and read a prayer over the body. There were no other ceremonies except those held by a number of American Horse's relatives and friends. These ceremonies were held by the Indians alone, and they refused to say what had taken place except that a tomahawk had been placed in the coffin and that there had been a chant which one of the men led.

The ceremonies lasted about half an hour. In the room during the ceremonies were the widow, Drooping Bow, White Cloud, her brother, White Cloud, Jr., two other Indian men and two women. When the coffin had been placed in the hearse, White Cloud, his son, Drooping Bow, and one of the Indian women got into the only carriage in waiting and the small procession started for the cemetery. At the cemetery there was no ceremony whatever.

American Horse was a Canadian Indian, 65 years old. He was a scout in the late war and drew a pension of $12 a month from the government. He was said to have been a member of a Grand Army post.

THE MARCH OF BLOOD

Description by an Eye-Witness of the Trip of Moosher Pasha Through Asia Minor.

Innumerable Villages Were Burned and Over Seven Thousand Lives Were Lost by His Visit.

All Bodies Left Where They Were Butchered and Pestilential Odors Now Fill the District.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 20.—The first description by an eye witness of Moosher Pasha's "march of blood" as it has come to be known, has just been received by the Republic from Moosher, Asia Minor. The account is written by a native of the Sassoun district and had been sent by secret messenger through the territory of the sultan to insure its safe arrival. Moosher Pasha, the military governor of the city of Erzerjan, started by order of the sultan, into the Sassoun district last September. Innumerable burned villages and 7239 lives was the price of this official visit.

The European commission now investigating has just received the city of Moosher, the town from which the Republic received its dispatches. It reads:

"Moosher, Asia Minor, Jan. 7, 1895.—The number of our dead countrymen in the four towns visited by Moosher Pasha will not be far short of 7500. This is from the bodies counted and known to have perished. We cannot tell how many others there may be.

"The first town entered by Moosher was Shink. It contains four villages, Shink, Merra, Kojook and Dophy. When our people here heard of the arrival of the pasha, Father Johannes with forty of the leading townsmen, went to Moosher to beseech him to have mercy upon them. They were surrounded by soldiers long before they got to Moosher Pasha and everyone was killed. The bodies were put in the church and burned. Then they proceeded to burn the villages.

"The number killed from Shink proper numbered 623 and 317 from the rest of the villages. Those who escaped are now in the villages surrounding this town, but the villages are themselves very poor and many go hungry.

"Moosher Pasha left Shink to go to the next town in the Sassoun district. This town is Alyon and has fourteen villages. The people heard of his coming and they had twenty-four companies of 400 men besides twenty-three cannon. They knew that it was useless to appeal to him, so they fled to the village of Chi, because of its rocks and steeples, and there they could better escape him. They stayed in the mountains for twenty days, and when all food was gone and there was nothing left to do, they fled as best they could. Two thousand bodies were put in the church and burned. Then they proceeded to burn the villages.

"Gazi-Gazan was next, and because the town has twenty-four villages around it, Moosher brought Kurd, Ahmide and irregulars numbering 30,000. The town was deserted, for the people, with all the food they could carry, had fled to the mountains. They stayed in their fastness for thirty days, and at last fell a terrible rain struck down the mountain sides and attacked the tyrants instead of waiting to be killed. Patrik Virtan was like a god, and killed the men with his own sword before he fell dead. Father Bedras was a soldier, too, and encouraged his children, and when he was at last killed his body was cut in pieces and given to the dogs.

"Alog was the last town that the bloodthirsty tyrants visited, and this place contains seven villages, Virem Chaden, Mooray, Aukik, Kalaxa, Chorop and Davidig. The people had for the most part made their escape, but when Moosher and his soldiers went their way, 1500 bodies were found even here. Many more were burned but their number cannot be known.

"All bodies were left where they were butchered, and those who would travel this district must risk their lives through the pestilential odors that go up from so many dead bodies. All who escaped from the Sassoun district came to the villages of

Nothing Effective Was Done to Save the Lives of Passengers and Many Were Burned.

Master of Another Boat Compelled by Passengers to Keep Away from the Burning Boat.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Three prominent labor leaders, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and the legislative committee of that organization, Messrs. A. Feruseth and A. Strasser, are at the capitol working for the measures which have been endorsed by the legislature. One of the bills, framed by the Seamen's union and by Representative Maguire, of California, was yesterday signed by the president. Its effect is to abolish penal punishment of sailors for violating their civil contracts with shippers.

The Seamen's union has other bills upon which it hopes to secure favorable action at the hands of the next congress which are designed to abolish capital punishment on shipboard, to improve the standard of ration and quarters provided for sailors. It contends that the seamen of the American merchant marine are treated with less consideration by the laws of the United States than are those under the jurisdiction of any other civilized nation; that their food and quarters are poorer, punishments more severe and work harder, and that scurvy is more prevalent among them.

Mr. Gompers is working particularly for the bill to create a commission to investigate the conditions of labor and agriculture and their relations to capital, which was introduced by Representative Phillips, of New York, and is now before the labor committee. He is hopeful that it will be enacted.

The Federation of Labor has no special interest in the arbitration bill, Mr. Gompers says, because it applies to railroad men only, but he hopes to see it enacted.

The same man.

Working for Measures Endorsed by the Federation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Three prominent labor leaders, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and the legislative committee of that organization, Messrs. A. Feruseth and A. Strasser, are at the capitol working for the measures which have been endorsed by the legislature. One of the bills, framed by the Seamen's union and by Representative Maguire, of California, was yesterday signed by the president. Its effect is to abolish penal punishment of sailors for violating their civil contracts with shippers.

The Seamen's union has other bills upon which it hopes to secure favorable action at the hands of the next congress which are designed to abolish capital punishment on shipboard, to improve the standard of ration and quarters provided for sailors. It contends that the seamen of the American merchant marine are treated with less consideration by the laws of the United States than are those under the jurisdiction of any other civilized nation; that their food and quarters are poorer, punishments more severe and work harder, and that scurvy is more prevalent among them.

Mr. Gompers is working particularly for the bill to create a commission to investigate the conditions of labor and agriculture and their relations to capital, which was introduced by Representative Phillips, of New York, and is now before the labor committee. He is hopeful that it will be enacted.

The Sugar Planters' Claim.

The bounty system is vicious and indefensible. The sugar bounty was one of the worst features of the McKinley tariff law, and the present congress determined to have it obliterated. However, by reason of the bounty provisions in the McKinley law, certain obligations were incurred by the country which should, in all fairness and honesty, be discharged. The country is honestly bound to pay to the sugar producers a compensating bounty upon the crop of 1894 to the extent of the losses occasioned to them by the repeal of the law. By reason of the failure of the government to pay any part of last year's bounty, the state of Louisiana has been brought to a deplorable condition. The har-ruptcy and ruin which have already commenced, and which threaten to extend throughout the state, are due to the planters having contracted debts, in improvements, and in cultivation, based upon an expected and promised equitable treatment of them by the government, in case it should repeal the bounty law. The tariff law for this year has not benefited them at all, and in consequence, they find themselves unable to pay their debts, and bankers and merchants, who have advanced them, and furnished them supplies, are feeling the loss, and will possibly have to bear it all themselves; or, if unable to do so, they will be forced to ruinous seizures of plantation property, which will go far to destroy the sugar industry within the boundaries of the United States.

A circular issued by the executive committee appointed at a meeting of the interested planters point out that under the McKinley law, which made sugar free, but which provided a bounty to the producer, the present crop was planted, cultivated and grown. The seasons will not wait upon the deliberations of legislative bodies, and while congress was debating, the sugar producer was compelled to go on with his work. Assured that the government of this country would act towards him in good faith, he felt confident that congress would postpone until the growing crop was harvested, any radical change in the tariff, which would directly affect contracts, which had to be made, and obligations which had to be assumed (because they could not be delayed or deferred) under the then existing law.
For it must be born in mind that the Wilson bill became a law in the end of August, at a time when the sugar crop was virtually made, and when all the contracts for machinery, for supplies, for labor, etc., had been completed. Almost up to the very last moment, was the promise held out, that the sugar schedule of the Wilson bill would not be put into effect until the beginning of the year 1895, so that the growing crop would not be affected by the enactment of the new law.

The senate eliminated that provision of the bill, and the result was the sugar producer found himself in a very precarious situation, by being compelled to harvest his crop and manufacture it into sugar, under conditions radically different from those which prevailed when the crop was planted, cultivated and grown; he is now compelled to meet under these altered conditions, obligations based upon the expected continuance, to the end of the year, of the bounty provisions of the McKinley law.

Every commercial interest dealing with sugar producers and manufacturers in every state in the Union will be directly affected by any failure on the part of the present congress to right the wrong, which would result from a failure to pay the equitable claim for the bounty earned under licenses, granted or applied for, previous to the repeal of the McKinley act. The idea prevails that a few sugar manufacturers are the sole recipients of this bounty. This is due to the regulations of the internal revenue department, which will only pay to the party who manufactures the sugar for the market; so that while it is true that, comparatively, a small number of manufacturers are the recipients of the sugar bounty, they are only the channels through which these bounty payments have flowed to cane farmers and supply furnishers, and permeated every branch of industry and of commerce in the country.

The planters' claim appears to be made from the standpoint of honesty, fairness and justice. It certainly appears that the bounty on the sugar crop of 1894 is an obligation which the government honestly owes and which it should redeem. While the bounty system should never have been established, the government is in honor bound to deal fairly with those who were its beneficiaries and as such incurred obligations in expectation of its continuance.

Making Good Appointments.

Mayor Strong, of New York, is a Republican but he recognizes the fact that he was not elected by Republican votes alone and that he was placed in office on partisan issues. The great issue upon which he was elected was reform. He was chosen to lead the fight against Tammany rule, and the movement was triumphant. Mayor Strong has shown that he appreciates the responsibility thrust upon him and he has given evidence of a determination to carry out the wishes of the people. His decision has not pleased the politicians. Boss Platt is angry and a score of other Republican politicians are howling because the mayor is making appointments which they consider "weak politically."

There is no indication, however, that Boss Platt or any of the other politicians will be able to swerve Mayor Strong from the course he has adopted. He has appointed the following named members of the supervising board of the civil service municipal commission: Everett P. Wheeler, bolting Democrat, who ran for governor in November last; Edwin L. God-kin, editor of the New York Evening Post, and a pronounced Mugwump; E.
Randolph Robinson and Charles W.
Watson, Republicans. This is a board that is not likely to be hoodwinked by the wiles and schemes of political managers. The mayor has likewise appointed Hon. William Brookfield as commissioner of public works. This is the prominent Republican who was defeated for chairman of the Republican county committee, and who represented the best portion of that committee, but was rejected through the machinations of T. C. Platt.

F. M. Scott has been appointed by Mr.
Strong corporation counsel of New York city. Mr. Scott is an anti-Tammany Democrat, and was one of the founders of the Young Men's Democratic club.
He was also one of the leading antisnappers in 1892, and assisted in organizing the movement against Judge Maynard. At the last city election he supported Mayor Strong. All these appointments indicate that Mayor Strong means to dispose of the municipal patronage for the "greater good of the greatest number," and not to aggrandize parties or individuals. He has started out well, and every man who wants to see better municipal government will trust that he will continue in this course.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin thinks that the poor basis on which the president's last issue of bonds was made may possess compensating elements, which it sums up as follows: "The awakening of the people may result in stamping out once for all the power and the financial heresies of the silver element. By many men of affairs it is thought that the president intended this to be an object lesson to congress, hoping that the humiliation of it would spur it on to afford the treasury the power which it now lacks in the matter of a gold bond. In any event, the plain English of the whole transaction is, that the administration will maintain the treasury gold and repeat the process as often as it is necessary, until this or a succeeding congress will furnish the legislation which alone can restore our credit."

To avoid dispute as to whether February has been colder than usual, it may be useful to cut out and paste in your hand the following, vouchered for by the weather bureau: The first decade of February has been a period of exceptional cold in all districts east of the Rocky mountains. From Central Texas northward over Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas and Eastern Montana, and from the Central Mississippi valley, eastward to the middle Atlantic coast, including the states of the Ohio valley, the daily temperatures have averaged from 20 degrees to 26 degrees below the normal for the first ten days of the month, the greatest deficiency occurring in Central Illinois.

Howard & Haynie

"The men who have done us harm," he says, "are those who have advocated dis-union, but have done it so that they have been enabled to keep their political position; who have advocated repudiation of debts, or other financial dishonesty, but have kept their position in the community; who preach the doctrines of anarchy, but refrain from action that will bring them within the pale of the law; for these men lead thousands astray by the fact that they go unpunished or even rewarded for their misdeeds."

The Cincinnati Enquirer calls attention to the fact that if the bills now introduced in many legislatures to reduce palace car rates to $1 should pass, the palace car will become a thing of the past. Linen, soap, curtains, upholstery and so forth will become coarser and cheaper and the comfort of present travel will be over. There are objections to the present system, but there will be greater to the new.

The Republican political ring triumphed at the municipal election in Philadelphia yesterday by raising the party cry. This is to be regretted, because the municipal ring in Philadelphia is one of the most corrupt on the face of earth. It is the direct result of the party spirit in municipal politics.

The St. Louis Star-Sayings says that congress has evidently adopted two proverbs from widely different countries:
"Jo boon, so boon" (what has been, has been) from the Hindustani, and "Che sara sara" (what will be, will be) from the Italian.

Count Castellane, of Paris, who is to marry Miss Anna Gould next month, desires that his intended bride is about to settle several million dollars on him.
The count will wait until after marriage and then help to spend her fortune.

The probability is increasing that the Hayward murder trial at Minneapolis will result in a disgraceful trial of the jury.
The defense has produced sufficient evidence to create "a reasonable doubt" in the minds of some men.

It is estimated that the postoffice department will cost the country $16,000,000 this year. This is $6,000,000 more than in 1894, and is altogether too much.
The department should be entirely self-supporting.

The attempt to fill the offices of the county with the followers of the political ring will not succeed. The county is not an eleemosynary institution for political workers.

Japan has ordered two new battle ships of 12,500 tons and evidently intends to get into the front rank as a naval power.

The indications are that Mexico and Opening Court With Prayer.

Bangor Commercial: One of the learned justices of the Maine supreme court, than whom no man better knows how to appreciate a really amusing thing, was holding court at Ellsworth, and, according to honored custom, called in a local clergyman to open the session with a supplication to heaven. This worthy gentleman came, and after chat-ing with the justice proceeded to read the giver of all good and perfect things thus:
"Almighty God, we beseech Thee to bestow upon the presiding justice the wisdom which he so greatly needs!" It is said that the same judge, once opened court after prayer, which began this way:
"Oh, Lord, we pray Thee to overrule the decisions of the court to Thine own honor and glory."

A YOUNG LAD'S STORY

Francis Hendrickson's Evidence May Convict Cody and Dewar, the Two Forgers From the Range.

They Rode to the Range Together in a Box Car and He Saw Checks Written.

He Also Testified as to Their Having Checks Cashed and Hiring a Livery Rig.

The jury in the Moses Cook grand larceny case having brought in a verdict of not guilty, Cook's bondsmen were released this morning and the trial of Samuel Cody for forgery was taken up by Judge Ensign. Cody is accused of forging a $10 check payable to Joe Bush and purporting to be signed by Mitchell & McClure upon one Mike Mitchell, manager of a "club house" at Virginia. Some pretty strong evidence was introduced by the state against Cody during the trial this morning, but Cody, who was dressed in a mackinaw and woodsman's outfit, seemed unconcerned, and his somewhat vicious looking face with prominent features wore a careles smile most of the time.

Mike Mitchell testified that he ran a gambling joint at Virginia, and that Cody on Jan. 12 came in the evening and played a little roulette, losing about $30. He then asked the bartender to cash a check for him, and he was told that there was not money enough in the drawer. So Mitchell offered to cash it himself and did so. Charles Johnson testified that Cody tried to cash another check in his place later in the evening. The best witness for the state was Francis G. Hendrickson, a 16-year-old boy.

He testified that he came here looking for work about seven weeks ago from Marquette county where he had worked on a farm. His father and mother are dead. He was walking along Superior street Jan. 10, hungry and broke, when he met Cody, who told him to come up to his lodging place with him. While there the boy asked him if he was working, and Cody said that he did not need to work, that he could make $500 or $600 a week without working. He then showed the boy a check for $30. They slept together that night and the next day went to the Bethel for breakfast and remained there until 1 o'clock.

About 12 o'clock John Dewar came in and the two men had a consultation. They then walked up the railroad tracks westward, and on the way they destroyed some papers, and one of them said that "two miles ought to be far enough away." On the way Cody gave the boy three letters to mail which he had written at the Bethel. From the end of the street they tracked the three walked over the Missabie yards and got into an empty box car. At Iron Junction they got off and walked to Wolf station.

They Wrote Some Checks. About half way they stopped, and Dewar took out a fountain pen and Cody a check book. Dewar wrote two checks, and as they were blotted, took them up. Cody then wrote two, one of which the boy identified as the one for passing which Cody was arrested. Cody tried to pass a check at Wolf station, but did not succeed. At Mountain Iron both men went up town and came back with money in their pockets. This enabled them to hire a rig to get to Virginia, which was to be the base of operations.

After they separated at Virginia Saturday the boy did not see Cody and Dewar again until the next day, when he saw them in jail. Cody then told the boy to get away from them or they would have him in the lockup. The boy made a good witness and J. H. Norton, who defended Cody, could shake his story. The state rested its case, and the defense opened to the jury just before noon.

Judge Moor charged the jury in the case against the West Duluth Italians for receiving stolen property, just before noon. Judge Lewis was ill so there was no court in his room this morning.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed, it is entirely closed, and the sound cannot enter the ear. It is entirely closed, and the sound cannot enter the ear. It is entirely closed, and the sound cannot enter the ear.

We will give $100 reward for any case of deafness cured by our medicine. Send for circulars, free.

ODD FELLOWS' GRIPS.

They're All Packed and Ready for the St. Paul Annual Meet.

St. Paul is the Mecca for all true Odd Fellows this week, for within its borders will be held the twenty-fifth annual communication of the grand encampment, I. O. O. F. The sessions will be held at the hall of Hancock encampment, No. 39, and will continue two days. Proceedings will consist mostly of routine business and discussions on changes in the constitution.

Grand Patriarch W. G. Nye, of Minneapolis, will make a report which will be quite encouraging, as it will show that the branch has grown, despite the stringent times. There are now forty-one encampments in the state, with a membership of 2052 in good standing. The treasury is also in fair shape, showing a balance on the right side.

The indications are that the attendance will be unusually large, and an interesting meeting will be the result. Among the more prominent Odd Fellows who will attend are the following: W. H. Wells, P. G. M., Montevideo; G. S. Eves, P. G. M., St. Peter; T. W. Gage, G. R., Duluth; Dr. D. C. Bates, P. G. P., Lake City; C. M. Sprague, P. G. P., Sauk Center; J. G. Paschke, P. G. P., Winnebago City; Dr. R. K. Lynch, Monticello; D. H. Stinson, Austin.

CRUELTY AND LAZINESS.

Sarah Berry Makes Those the Grounds For an Action For Divorce.

Sarah Berry has instituted divorce proceedings against Solomon Berry. She is 37, while he is 46, and they were married in 1877. She files a long complaint, alleging cruelty, laziness, indifference, shiftlessness and drunkenness, and outlines a large number of instances where he practiced cruelty upon her and her children. She charges him with, among other things, compelling the boys to work, and asks for divorce and alimony. She began proceedings once before and discontinued them at his solicitor's request.

In the case of the International Trust company against the American Loan and Trust company, an action brought to enforce the statutory liability of stockholders and to secure the appointment of a receiver, notices of appeal have been filed from the case and refusing to appoint a receiver. It will be remembered that the application of the International Trust company was denied by the court, and that the more recent statute providing for the liability of stockholders does not apply to the company.

In the case of Hattie W. Backus against Frank J. Hunt, et al., the defendant has filed notice of an appeal from an order denying a motion for a new trial.

LAWYERS ON LEGISLATION.

Committee Will Make Some Recommendations on Saturday Evening.

A bar meeting has been called for Saturday evening to hear the report of the committee appointed at the meeting of the lawyers, Dr. H. H. Hunt, et al., selected as bar candidates, to consider needed legislation. There are a number of subjects which will be reported upon and on which recommendations will be made. Some of the matters upon which legislation is to be recommended are as follows:

Matters of practice on appeal in relation to the record; fixing amount that may be charged for transcript by court stenographer; fixing fees of clerk of court so as to make it a fair business; same system as Hennepin and Ramsey counties; fixing clerk's fees for certificates of judgment; relation of appeals from justices of the peace; providing for appeals from municipal courts to district court in certain cases; for taking depositions within the state; opposing abolition of second trial in cases of ejectment as proposed in bill now pending in the legislature; recommendations concerning legislation in congress.

A Novel Idea.

It is free, and deeply interesting everybody who has aches or pains, or who is weak and sickly. Anyone can learn the surest and quickest means to get well, and well by accepting that splendid free offer of the great specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, 45 West Fourth street, New York city. He has established a system of letter correspondence through which all sick and suffering people can learn exactly what to do, and to get well, without expense and without leaving their homes. All they have to do is to write to the doctor, stating each symptom from which they are suffering, and he will answer their letter, explaining their case thoroughly, telling just what the trouble is and what to do to be cured. He gives the greatest care and attention to every letter, and tells the cause of each symptom so plainly that patients understand instantly just what ails them. And all this costs nothing. It is a splendid opportunity for those who cannot afford the time or expense to go to the city. Dr. Greene makes a specialty of curing patients through letter correspondence. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervous blood and nerve remedy. Those who write to him get cured.

DULUTH, MINN., FEB. 18, 1895.

Respectfully,

R. R. BRIGGS, Chairman.

JOHN A. KEYES, Secretary.

J. L. WASHBURN, P. C. SCHMIDT, S. T. HARRISON.

OBJECT LESSONS

That the Public Are Daily Learning—The Interest and Curiosity Constantly Increasing.

The five new scenes that are being shown this week in the Edison kinetoscopes, now on exhibition in the store of M. S. Burrows & Co., are the most realistic, startling, thrilling and artistic of any that have yet been seen. They consist: First—"The Picknickers" from the "Lassing Show" and the grotesque and eccentric dances of the little coons are very real.

Secondly—"May Lucas," the London gaiter girl in one of her pretty skirt dances is true to life. The graceful movement of the dances and artistic manipulations of the skirt are a pleasing sight.

Thirdly—"Annie Oakley," the world's champion lady rifle shot lately with Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, in her remarkable feats of rapid target and glass ball shooting.

The scenic, probably more than any other, demonstrates the great possibilities of the kinetoscope in reproducing the minutest details, even to the shattered fragments of the small glass balls.

Fourthly—"The Fire Scene." A burning building, heroic firemen tenderly passing down from ladders helpless little children snatched from the devouring flames and a fearful death.

Fifthly—"The Wrestling Dog." Intensely amusing and pleasing for the little ones. The romping and good natured playing of a magnificent St. Bernard with his keeper. This is a pretty picture that causes the children to go into raptures.

The gentlemanly operator, from Edison's own laboratory, in charge of these kinetoscopes, is always pleased to show all the intricacies of this new and most scientific invention. Parents should bring in the children to see these kinetoscopes as they are instructed in object lessons they can never forget.

THE BOOTH BOATS.

The Hunter Will be Added to the List During the Coming Summer.

The arrangements for the Booth fleet of passenger and freight steamers for 1895 were completed today by General Manager C. W. Turner, who is in the city on that errand. The Hiram R. Dixon, Capt. Hector on the bridge, will make three trips weekly between Duluth, Isle Royale and Port Arthur.

The S. B. Barker will be taken on the south shore route and placed in service among the Apostle islands with headquarters at Bayfield. She will be officered as before.

She will leave Duluth Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and Ashland on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, remaining at Duluth Sundays to engage in the excursion business. The Hunter will be commanded by Capt. E. C. Smith George Beloit will be chief engineer.

TAKES A DULUTH DOCK.

Philadelphia and Reading Coal Company Acquires the Sargent Dock.

The Philadelphia and Reading Coal company is figuring on getting in on the Duluth side of the bay, and when the Ohio Coal company's lease of the Sargent dock expires in the spring, they will begin operations in Duluth by taking hold of the vacant dock. The Ohio Coal company has until July to get its coal off the dock, and will probably be away sooner.

Sargent's dock will be merely the opening wedge for the Philadelphia and Reading, and they will probably add to their Duluth business later. The Sargent dock with the idea of concentrating its business, and will probably abandon all their other docks except No. 1. This will give more openings to other companies.

Paul Laureate Frechette.

To the Editor of The Herald: I was astonished to read the following in this morning's News Tribune: "Louis Frechette, the poet laureate of Canada, has been banqueting at Pawtucket, R. I. Such is fame. Who ever heard of Frechette, or of Pawtucket either, for the matter of that?"

Louis Frechette is one of the foremost journalists of Canada, as well as a poet of note. His articles and "causeries" in La Patrie and other Canadian papers are read with great avidity, and the editor of the Tribune might learn a good lesson in ethics, history or literature from the same French Canadian Frechette. Yours, etc.,

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Feb. 21.—The storm area which was central yesterday morning north of Lake Superior has moved to the Lower St. Lawrence valley. It has been attended with high winds and snows from the Duluth eastward over the lake region. It was still snowing at 8 a. m. today in Upper Michigan; elsewhere the weather was fair.
A moderate cold wave has extended southward over Wisconsin, the Dakotas and Minnesota, where temperatures ranging from 10 degrees above zero to 10 degrees below have succeeded the mild weather of yesterday.
Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 2 degrees above zero; maximum yesterday, 40 degrees above zero; minimum yesterday, 21 degrees; snowfall (measured), .10 inch.

Duluth, Feb. 21.—Forecast for Duluth and vicinity till 7 p. m. tomorrow: Fair; colder today; brisk northwest wind, diminishing this evening and shifting to warmer southerly on Friday.
Local Forecast Official.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: For Minnesota: Fair tonight; warmer in western portion tonight; Friday, fair and warmer; winds shifting to southerly Friday.
For Wisconsin: Fair and colder tonight; Friday fair, warmer by evening; fresh northwest wind twenty-four hours.

The Bank of England.
Comparatively few people in this country have a correct idea of the manner in which the Bank of England is conducted and the relation which it bears to the government. There are so many people who think it is a government bank that there will be very general surprise expressed at the announcement that it is actually a private bank and that all its directors are elected by the stockholders in the same manner as bank directors are chosen in this country.

The gold in the bank is not a war chest; it belongs to the noteholders, for whom the bank keeps it in trust, but payable on demand. The "reserve" of the bank is not a reserve against its notes, but against its deposits. In fact, the "reserve" consists almost entirely of bank notes. Not one of its notes is uncovered; each is fully covered by gold or by securities in its own possession, but specially held for the protection of the noteholder; so that the payment of the notes involves no possible increase of the public debt or of taxation.

Its bank notes are invariably cancelled when redeemed; not one is reissued after being paid in gold. Its notes are legal tender for any sum above £5, except by the bank itself. (3 and 4, William IV, chapter 93, section 6.) That is, they are legal tender for payments to the bank, but not for payments by the bank. The undoubted goodness of the Bank of England note is entirely independent of fluctuations in the revenue of the government.

A Sad State of Affairs.
In a sermon last Sunday, Rev.
Thomas Dixon, who has gained a reputation for stating facts in language that all understand, thus referred to the condition of our people as governed by the saloon. The drink problem is an old one, but the saloon is a modern institution.
It combines the drink, gambling and social evils. We haven't a very good library in New York. We had 14,000 children on the streets last year for want of proper schools. We have no institutions for the poor, no orphanages, but we have 8000 saloons. They're our specialty. We send a beer keg to the senate to fill the seat once occupied by Seward. We've been enough to float the navies of the world. We worship mammon in New York city. Home life is becoming a memory. In those frightful tenement houses thirteen persons are crowded into a room twelve feet square —because it says. While they starve in one street, sailors in Fifth avenue devise costumes for dogs.

This is a terrible state of affairs. It is exaggerated, some will say. Possibly it is a slightly overdrawn picture, but allowing for any slight exaggeration it exhibits an awful condition of things.
It cannot last. There must be a change.
The day of reckoning must come. The conditions that now exist must be reversed, and when that time comes the reversal may be sudden and sweeping.

When the clergy goes in for plain language the ablest efforts of Dr. Lettwich, of Louisville, turned himself loose last Sunday. He declared that Louisville was the "worst place he ever saw," and that "if he wanted his boys to go straight to hell, he would bring them here and put them in the arms of the Louisville society girls." This is of course an embarrassing admission, says the Kansas City Star, but it is due to the Louisville girls to say that if a man is fully determined to go to hell, if nothing can dissuade him, this is altogether the most desirable and luxurious route.

The Telephone Monopoly.
The Bell Telephone company, not satisfied with the monopoly it has secured for several years under government patent, and the great advantage over competitors it still enjoys through its established exchanges and its experience, is striving to get an extension of government aid in its control of the business. Two bills, Nos. 5361 and 6098, now before congress, are intended to amend the patent laws for the benefit of the Bell company.

Referring to these measures the Philadelphia Ledger says: "They should not be permitted to pass. The Bell company has obtained in abundance the rewards the patent laws hold out to inventors, and its course in reaping the fruits of that monopoly has rendered it exceedingly obnoxious. The public has generally submitted to exactions sanctioned by law; it will not be tolerant of other exactions authorized by laws to be passed for the special benefit of the Bell company." With these sentiments every one will heartily agree.

Cereals and Cotton.
If the wheat, corn and cotton crops of last year could have been dropped in New York on Jan. 1, 1895, says a St.
Louis paper, they would have been worth $1,178,256,938, as against $1,253,- 187,716 for 1895, although the product was immense. The cause of this shortage of $100,000,000 can be gathered from the following table of averages, taken from the statistics of the department of agriculture:

	1894.	1895.
Wheat, bushel.....	62.1	60.3
Rye, bushel.....	51.5	50.3
Oats, bushel.....	34.8	32.9
Barley, bushel.....	40.8	41.3
Corn, bushel.....	36.5	35.6
Cotton, pound.....	6.9	4.9

Corn is higher by 4 cents than in the last four years, but wheat is at its lowest in the last twenty-five years, and 22 cents less than in the last four years. Cotton is from 20 to 40 per cent below the average of the last few years.

Referring to the fact that the "Hyde estate" swindle has broken out again, this time among Minnesota and Wisconsin heirs, the Chicago Herald says:
"These dupes are told that the sum of $3,200,000 ($10,000,000) is now ready for distribution to 100 heirs who have proved up their descent from the original Hyde. This is a worse fraud than the "green goods" or gold bricks. There is no Hyde estate. It is a pure myth, and two or three persons are suffering penal imprisonment in England for collecting money from the victims of the swindle."

It is not often that journalistic loans are repaid with such interest as a Pennsylvania editor has just received. Thirty years ago he turned his pile of $500 over to an impecunious friend, who hurried westward in search of health and fortune.
Recently the editor was informed that his i. f. crossed the range and bequeathed him $50,000 to repay the loan. It has not been explained yet, however, how the editor saved up the $500 thirty years ago.

A bill has been introduced in the Massachusetts legislature by which a person who risks his life for the purpose of saving the life of another, or to save him from serious injury, may, by award of city council or by vote of a town, be awarded a sum not exceeding $1000, or, should the salvor be killed, the money may be given to his family. In these days of rapid transit the bill seems worthy of general adoption.

A bill has been introduced in both houses of the Illinois legislature for the complete reformation of the municipal government of Chicago. An important feature is the sale of franchises at auction with a provision for the payment of a per cent of earnings from such franchises to the city. In other respects, the city government is modeled on that of Paris.

On the morning of the anniversary of Lincoln's birth, the Frederickburg, Va., Free Lance said: "It will not be regarded as rank treason on this, his natal day, in this generation, to publish of him in a Southern community that he was a great and good man." This is a very carefully guarded statement, and it is to be hoped that the Virginia editor did not lose any subscribers by his frankness.

Chairman Wilson is being mentioned as likely to be President Cleveland's choice for minister to Mexico, to fill the vacancy created by Mr. Gray's death.
Certainly if loyalty to the administration counts for anything, Mr. Wilson should be given the appointment if he wants it.

Last Sunday sermons on municipal reform were delivered in all the Protestant churches of Chicago and were listened to by over 100,000 people. Since Dr. Parkhurst's triumph in New York city, the pulpit's power in politics is not a subject of so much derision by the politicians.

And now they say that James W. Scott, who has secured entire control of the Chicago Herald and Post, is negotiating for the purchase of the Times, with the idea of consolidating the Times and the Herald. The Times has been making rapid strides lately.

New Zealand roses, ice-packed, are delivered in London in January. What with its shipments of mutton, beef, pork, rabbits, dairy products, fruits and jams the far off colony is now doing a wonderful business with its mother country.

A delegation of legislators is expected to visit Duluth and the iron ranges at an early date. They should be given a hearty welcome and Duluth's reputation for hospitality should be fully maintained.
Duluth needs the friendship of the legislature.

An extra session in March is a necessary, and it hardly needed the president's intimation yesterday that he would call the next congress to meet about March 15 to confirm the belief that an extra session will be held.

Oil is said to have been discovered in the Rainy Lake region. The report may be true. The natural wealth of the northern section of the state is practically unknown.

The Scotch distillers report that the business increased last year while the Irish distillers report a serious decline in trade. Total abstinence must be gaining ground in Ireland.

There are 30,000 ex-Newfoundlanders living in New England and they are now raising funds for the relief of their deserted brethren at their old home.

Weighted, But Not Wanting.
"And how weighted, dear This matter you've promised?"
She said, as very graciously Within his lap she posed.

"I never had before," said he,
"But now I have good grounds For making a good man of you."
—Richard M. Dispatch.

Magnanimity.
New York Sun: Against Saturday the Hon. David Bennett Hill figured in the senate as the defender and apologist of the Hon. Grover Cleveland's administration.

Indeed, Senator Hill seems to be the sole member of the senate who is at the same time capable of using the English language effectively, and willing and ready to render a service to the White House.

This is magnanimity of the highest type. There is nothing in Plutarch's surpassing it. It places Senator Hill's name high on the roll of those great men who have possessed and publicly exercised the rarest of virtues.
All the same, it must cut like a knife.

Strike Losses.
St. Louis Globe: According to the estimate of the senate committee on education and labor, the strikes during the past six years have involved losses aggregating $68,530,889; and it is impossible to see that the labor problem has been in the least degree simplified by this enormous expenditure.

Brains, if Not Beauty.
New York Sun: The American School Board Journal publishes the portraits of a considerable number of state school superintendents who have lately been elected. In North Dakota, Colorado and Wyoming these high officials are ladies; and we add with satisfaction that there is not a single pretty one among them.
They all owe their places to their high educational merits, and not to personal beauty or any flirtings.

Must Save Fuel.
Judge: St. Peter—Well, who are you?

Reverie of Midwinter.
Though he be weary under this sun,
He thinks that two are better than one.

"Though all be wearyer than one!"
He thinks that two are better than one!

way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the middle ear tube. When this tube gets inflamed and swollen it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be brought out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever.
In cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the middle ear tube.
We will give $100 reward for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's catarrh cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE LAST SAD RITES

Funeral Services Over the Remains of Alderman George W. Goldsmith This Morning at St. Paul's Church.

Episcopal Burial Service Was Said by Dr.
Ryan and Afterward the Masonic Funeral Service.

Rev. C. C. Salter Preached a Sympathetic and Elevating Sermon, Paying High Tribute to the Deceased.

The funeral services of George William Goldsmith were held at St. Paul's Episcopal church this forenoon. Despite the coolness of the weather the house was packed and a large number were turned away at the doors, being unable to get inside with either comfort or ease.

The hearse bearing the remains was followed from the residence of the deceased at 1111 West First street, by a long line of carriages filled with members of the family, relatives, city officials, the aldermen and near friends.

The civic bodies, the Masons, Knights of Pythias, I. O. O. F. and Sons of St.
George assembled at the church and awaited the cortege. As soon as that arrived the remains were taken within and deposited near the altar, with the beautiful floral tributes from the aldermen, city officials and others. The members of the different orders then passed in and the general public was then permitted to occupy the few seats left and the crush and push for them was very heavy.

Rev. A. W. Ryan conducted the services and was assisted by Rev. H.
Sheridan and Rev. C. C. Salter. It was 10:25 o'clock when the peals of the organ broke the solemn stillness and the choir responded with "Gloria." Rev. Mr.
Ryan read those portions of the Scripture appropriate to the occasion and the choir and congregation followed that with a hymn.

The venerable Dr. Salter then quietly stepped forward and said that in the absence of Dr. Forbes he had been called upon to pay a last tribute to the deceased. He spoke simply, tenderly, feelingly. His brief remarks were listened to amidst the most solemn silence and water highly impressive.

Dr. Salter's Address.
He commenced by referring to the tributes of the friends of the deceased—the floral offerings—and spoke of the eloquence of silence and the eloquence of a living tongue. In quiet words, softened with sadness, Dr. Salter said that it was just twenty-one years ago since he climbed the stairs in a building on Lake avenue and entered the room where George Goldsmith, then a boy of 17, lay suffering from the hardships and dangers attending the wreck on the rocky shore of Lake Superior of the little vessel upon which he was a sailor. Incidents of that accident were recalled, and then the venerable speaker told how, after recovering from the exposures of that wreck, he had taken up the tools and duties of life and by many industry and integrity had climbed up to a position in the community where he was loved, honored and respected by all.

Another hymn was sung and then Rev.
Mr. Sheridan offered a prayer. After that the Masons presented their burial service. It was most impressive and participated in by a large number of the members of the order.

At the close of those rites the members of the various bodies marched back to their respective lodge rooms and the remains of the deceased, followed by the mourners, were borne to the vault at Twelfth avenue east.

CAUSED BY A FALL.
Physicians Attribute Alderman Goldsmith's
Death to an Accident.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Taylor, assisted by Dr. Goffe and Dr. McComb, held an autopsy on the body of George W. Goldsmith and announced as a result that instead of meningitis it was the effects of a fall in a slippery street that caused his death. Mr. Goldsmith about six weeks ago jumped off a moving street car and, slipping, fell and struck his head on the frozen ground. He was troubled for some time on account of the fall. The doctors discovered a large bleeding clot on the brain where the concussion occurred.

Mr. Goldsmith carried a $5000 accident policy in a Masonic company, which could not have been collected had the death resulted from sickness.

ONE OF YOUR WANTS.

In Considering Your Needs Do Not Forget This.

If You Do You Will Make a Serious Mistake at This Season.

Something of Deep and Peculiar Interest Just Now.

There are many needs during the spring months, but none more necessary or urgent than the use of a spring medicine. The blood requires it, and the nerves, liver, kidneys and bowels must have it if you desire to keep strong and vigorous, and maintain your good health.
Those who are weak, tired and nervous must take it, and those who do not feel just right should do so or serious ill health may follow.

Mrs. C. L. French, of Hardwick, Vt., can tell you out of her own experience just what to do.

"Three years ago," she says, "I was completely prostrated from nervous trouble. I could not do anything. I was confined to my bed much of the time, and was unable to attend to my business for three months. I had trouble with my stomach, my food distressing me constantly.

"I could not sleep, for my whole nervous system was prostrated. My trouble was brought on by overwork and loss of sleep. After taking many remedies without avail, I commenced to use Dr.
Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and found instant benefit from its use.

"I continued it until now, when I can say that I am as well as I ever was. I certainly think this is the best medicine I ever knew of. I consider it a great thing to say, that from a severe case of nervous trouble, I am restored to health in so short a time is something unusual.

"I heartily recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to all, and wish every poor suffering person might use it."

It is impossible to express the good which this medicine is doing for suffering humanity. It strengthens the nerves, invigorates the blood, regulates the action of the stomach, liver, bowels and the entire system. It is a cure in your own case, and see how rapidly it gives you back your health and strength. It is the best of all spring medicines.

Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when here is a physician's prescription, a discovery made by the greatest of the specialists in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr.
Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York city. If you take this medicine, you will find it a great relief. Dr.
Greene's direct professional care, and you can consult him, or write to him about your case, freely and without charge. This is a rare opportunity. The remedy will cure, possessed by no other medicine in the world.

NOT THE RIGHT COLOR.

J. Mandelert & Sons Did Not Have Their Bul-lorie Colored Pink.

The visit of the two dairy inspectors, C. B. Davis and E. C. Williams, which has so far been so fruitless, may possibly result in something yet. All the cases so far made public have resulted against the inspectors. But these gentlemen knew of more than one way to get at the cause of the trouble. On the evening of the 19th, they went to the residence of the sale of bogus lard and spurious butter, and while they were there they quietly went before the grand jury and secured an indictment against J. Mandelert & Sons, grocers, of West Duluth.

The indictment was found Saturday and was presented to the court Monday.
It was returned against J. Mandelert & Sons, an indictment had been returned against West Duluth grocers, though the indictment was not given out by the officials.
All that this case calls for is a verdict of guilty, and a bench warrant, and Charles A. Mandelert, junior member of the firm, was arrested, and all were exhibited. He will be arraigned at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and will be allowed to furnish bonds.

The firm has been selling butterine under a government license, and the article has been duly labeled as such. But the state law provides that unless butterine is colored pink it cannot be sold.
The article sold by the Mandelerts was not colored pink, hence the arrest.

Cody Found Guilty.
Samuel Cody's case for forgery went to the jury yesterday afternoon, and there was not a very long wait before a verdict of guilty was returned. John Dewar's similar case was taken up and given to the jury this morning. In half an hour he was also found guilty.

Notice was given in both cases that motions to arrest judgment would be made.

This morning the case against Mike Haley for assault in the second degree for striking A. P. Johnson with the flat side of a double-bitted ax was taken up and was on trial at noon. Haley is cook in a Mountain Iron lumber camp, and Johnson asserts that he went into the cook's camp to get a gun he had left there for safe keeping. Haley refused to give it up, and Johnson went a second time, taking witnesses with him, whereupon he says Haley fell upon him with an ax and felled him.

The defense will attempt to prove that a number of the men had been in the habit of going to Mountain Iron Sundays and getting drunk, causing them to be late for supper. The cook had orders to refuse them supper when they came late and did so on this day. About fifty-five of the men are said to have made a raid on the cook's camp to see who was running things and that was the reason Haley used an ax. It does not appear as yet how the case will turn out.

Ex-County Attorney Year is defending Haley.
P. P. Shelton, who raised a time check from seven men to seven days, withdrew his plea of not guilty and admitted the charge. A Herman Erickson, driver of a laundry wagon, was arraigned upon a plea of not guilty to a charge of larceny in the second degree.
He is accused of abstracting divers sums for his own use from the collections he made for his employer.

A jury yesterday found Tony Pedro, Tony Casciatta and Dominic Casciatta not guilty of using their West Duluth peanut emporium as a fence.

Judge Lewis was able to hold court again this morning, and the case of John Helmer et al against All Merritt and George Chesborough, was again taken up. The morning was spent in arguing motions to dismiss, all of which were denied, and the case may go to the jury Monday morning.

Judge Moer was hearing at noon the case of George N. Holland against the stockholders of the Duluth Iron and Development company. An unsatisfis-tory judgment was obtained against the company some time ago by Holland, and he is now proceeding against the stockholders.

There will be no court tomorrow and most of the county offices will be closed.

THE DULUTH CLUB.

Results in the Billiard and Pool Tournament Now Being Played.

The billiard and pool tournament at the Duluth club has been on every night this week. Last evening O. G. Brice played billiards against Joseph Dodge, he to make 70 points to Dodge's 50.
Dodge ran the 50 while Brice made 50.
At pool S. S. Phillips played S. E. Matter. The former was to play 45 to the latter's 50 and Matter won by 50 to 41.

Cochran was making 34. The latter needed 45.

On Tuesday evening George McKenzie and J. A. Waugh played billiards.
McKenzie ran out his 100 when Waugh had 71, he requiring 85. Don McLennan defeated Dr. Metcalf, 100 to 49, the latter needing 75. E. J. Crossett also won over S. S. Phillips, 55 to 60. Phillips' necessary number was 60.

On the same evening Dr. Cullum was to make 70 to Joseph Dodge's 45, but Dodge ran out when Dr. Cullum had 35.
Don McLennan defeated Ward Ames 100 to 60, the odds being 100 to 80. W.
F. Quayle and H. H. Myers played a close game. They were to play 45 to 60, and Mr. Myers ran his 60 when Quayle had 41.

Ellsworth Benham Arraigned.
In police court this afternoon John D.
Caine was sent up ten days for drunkenness, and William Lyons was fined $5 and costs for assault and battery in the person of Albert Saoski.

Kau Mullan with stealing her gold watch and $150 cash was arraigned and his examination set for Saturday afternoon.

sault in the second degree on the person of John A. Morrison was arraigned. His preliminary examination was set for next Wednesday afternoon.

Have Organized.

The ladies of the different churches have their aid, sewing and other societies and the men of the First Baptist church have concluded to have a society themselves.

On Tuesday evening they met and organized an association to be known as the "Men's Association of the First Baptist church." Its purpose is to promote the sociability, culture and Christian activity of the male members of the church and congregation and to interest and enlist others in the work.

The following officers were elected: President, W. B. Patton; vice president, N. A. Gearhart; secretary, L. D. Campbell; treasurer, H. S. Mahon. The officers will elect a board of directors.

At a regular meeting of Duluth lodge No. 47, Knights of Pythias, held Feb. 19, 1895, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas the Supreme Ruler of the universe, in His infinite wisdom, has removed from our midst our worthy and esteemed brother, George W. Goldsmith; and

Whereas, Brother Goldsmith, during the many years he has been identified with the order of Knights of Pythias, has by his every day life among us exemplified the principles of friendship, charity and benevolence, and endeavored himself to all those with whom he came in contact, particularly the members of this lodge; therefore,

Be it resolved, that in the death of Brother Goldsmith, this lodge has sustained the loss of one of its most worthy and honored members;

Resolved, further, that this lodge extends its heartfelt sympathies to his beloved wife and family in this hour of deepest affliction;

Resolved, further, that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this lodge and published in the daily papers of this city, and that a copy of the same be transmitted to the family of our late brother. GEORGE W. ORCHARD,

THE TALE OF A CAT.
A Little Maltese Cat on a Free Trip Around the World.

BOSTON, Feb. 22.—A little Maltese cat is beating her way around the world without the expenditure of a cent. A tag attached to a cord around her neck tells the story thus:

"Come on board at Minneapolis on my trip around the world. Please take the best of care of your passenger, via Boston, thence to New York steamer."

"KITTY." From Minneapolis the feline came over the "Soo" line to Montreal via the Concord & Montreal and the Boston & Maine to Boston. Last night she left Boston for New York in care of the baggage men who will see that she gets to New York, via the Fall River line.
When she arrives in New York she will be transferred to some ocean steamer.

In Omaha.
OMAHA, Feb. 22.—All public offices and banks were closed today in honor of Washington's birthday. Nearly all of the public schools held their special exercises yesterday, but at the high school today the Sons of the American Revolution presented a magnificent portrait of Washington to the pupils. This evening the Junior Order of United American Mechanics will hold special exercises and the ladies of the A. P. A. will give a Washington ball. The Y. M. C. A. will also celebrate "America Night" with appropriate exercises, and the Red Men will indulge in festivities.

Minister Gray's Remains.
INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 22.—The body of Isaac P. Gray lay in state at the capital last night and through the long hours a body of eight militiamen stood upon solemn guard duty. Shortly after 7 o'clock this morning the body was placed in a hearse, and under escort of the Indian Legion, was taken to the union station and placed on the funeral train for Union City.

ment to pay the widow of Thomas Mc-Coy, of St. Paul, the late consul general at Liberia, $2000 was agreed to.

FATHER GEORGE

The Whole Nation is Today Observing the Birthday of the Father of His Country.

Patriotic Subjects Formed the Program of the National Congress of Women Sitting in Washington.

In St. Paul There Were Numerous Patriotic Gatherings. One of Sons of the American Revolution.

The Legislature Not in Session, and Members of Both Houses Visited the State Prison.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—This being Washington's birthday the national congress of women, now in session here, chose patriotic subjects for consideration at both its morning and evening sessions.
The morning session was divided into two parts, assigned to patriotism in government and patriotism as an element in school government. Kate Brewster Sherman, of Ohio, presented the report of the committee on patriotic teaching.
She then discussed the influence of patriotism in founding and preserving free institutions. She said in part:

"Patriotism does not reach its highest form on the battlefield when the trumpets blare and the cannons roar and the general cries 'forward.' Splendid is the patriotism that leads a man to die for his country in the forefront of battle; but splendid beyond human speech to depict is the patriotism that leads to the sanc-tuary's stake, to the death of humiliation, defeat and the reproach of men.
She who leads a temperance crusade is nobler than he who wrenched Jerusalem from the Syrians. He who founds a school is greater than he who builds an armory. A free kindergarten that teaches the use of hand and eye and the brain is better than a mission that distributes alms. A national training school of industrial arts would do more for popular advancement in this country than any other school. It has done in all the years of its existence."

Miss Frances E. Willard then spoke on patriotism as a factor in the education of women. Ellen S. Mussey, of Washington, spoke on what the flag has cost women.

Louise Barnum Robbins, of Michigan, then discussed the part played by patriotism through the schools in forming the character of American citizens. She said:

"The people have established free schools and free education. If need be, let them assume control of the text books and let a few Jeffersons and Winsters and Clays and Wendell Phillips be found for the noble task of compiling in our school books the high thoughts of man and God, liberty and patriotism, to be absorbed by the out-reaching hearts of children. With the right text book, place in the schools teachers with lofty ideas of integrity and country and patriotism. Place in the schools the starry flag that the children shall learn to love and to honor as well as to grand ideas. Teach the inspiring 'Star Spangled Banner' and 'Rally Round the Flag' and there will be a rally, and the children will learn to love the flag whose folds protect them.
Teach youth the splendor of great ideas by recounting the unnumbered examples which enrich our history."

"Patriotism in New York Kindergartens was discussed by Isabella Charles Davis, of New York. The Bible salute was rendered by a number of little girls under the direction of Sarah C. Mink."

"The American Flag is the One Flag in the School Room as an Aid to Instruction," was the subject taken by Eliza D. Keith, of San Francisco. She said: "The American flag should be in the school room, especially in the United States.
Children should be taught that the flag stands for all that is great and glorious in our history; for all that makes us all, even every boy and girl, proud to be Americans. Make the children feel that its presence in the class room is both a protection and benediction. Make the flag the basis and cornerstone of all ceremonial."

"Let the highest honor in the power of the teacher to bestow, or of a scholar to earn, be the position of custodian of the flag. I have followed this plan for years in the public schools of San Francisco.
The recent adoption of the patriotic resolutions in my city making the flag salute a regular part of our course was the outgrowth of this work in one class room, and I have yet to see the first evidence of weariness or indifference of the present class."

Washington's birthday was fittingly celebrated in this city. The G. A. R., the District National Guard, the high school cadets, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the National Council of Women, the Sons of the Revolution and the Loyal Legion of Women and several other organizations each observed the national character of the day.
The government departments, banks and many business places were closed, it being a legal holiday.

OBSERVED AT ST. PAUL.
Patriotic Meetings Held in Celebration of the Day.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 22.—Several meetings were held by various patriotic and other organizations today in celebration of Washington's birthday, the chief one being that by the Sons of the American Revolution, in which the Daughters of the American Revolution joined.

Senators Come to Blows.
DENVER, Feb. 22.—Senators George
Pease, of Denver, county and David A.
Mills, of Eagle county, both Populists,
came to blows during the session of the senate today, and a pass struck Mills the head with a paper weight, inflicting a serious injury.

afternoon, and the formal address was delivered by Rev. John Paul Egbert, of this city.

The rival organization, the Sons of the Revolution, had its usual observance yesterday at the same place, where prizes were to be given to the Minnesota high school student writing the best patriotic essay, the selection being made from papers submitted by 3000 contest-ing students.

Tonight the Presbyterians of this city held a patriotic meeting. The legislature is not in session today and members of both houses visited the state prison at Stillwater, where appropriate services were held this afternoon.

In Chicago.
CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday was generally observed in Chicago today. Numerous celebrations were held by various patriotic and social organizations, the principal ones being the meeting of the Sons of the Revolution at Grace Episcopal church and the Union league celebration at the auditorium. The former made its address Bishop Seymour, of Springfield, Ill.
Archbishop Ireland delivered the commemorative address at the Auditorium.

Blaze at Hot Springs.

Fire Swept Away Many Buildings This Morning, and Three People Were Burned to Death.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 22.—A special from Hot Springs, Ark., says: A fire broke out here at 4 a. m. today and has raged without control, and so far four blocks of buildings have been destroyed. It is not yet known what the loss of life is, but one person, a Mrs. McLeod, is known to be dead. The fire started in the morning at 9 o'clock where there were eight dead and the number would be increased when a thorough examination of the ruins is made. Hot Springs has no adequate fire department, its streets are narrow and its buildings frame. So far none of the large hotels have been burned out, but all are in danger.

Among the dead reported is a man named Wigg, from Glens Falls, N. Y.

LATER.—Three lives lost.
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 22.—Three lives were lost and $75,000 worth of property destroyed in a fire which broke out here at 4 o'clock this morning.
Nearly all the property destroyed was boarding houses. The dead are: Mrs.
Clara Sammons, boarding house keeper, Hot Springs; D. W. Wigg, Glens Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. Maggie Hecox, boarding house keeper, Mr. and Mrs. Bronson, of Macon, Mo., were slightly injured in jumping from burning buildings.

The fire originated in a bakery on Ouachita avenue, over which were furnished rooms. Here Mrs. Sammons, who kept the house, died. The other buildings burned were: The Laclede, loss $6000; the Ouachita, loss $5000; the Illinois, $4000; the Missouri, $3000; the Tennessee, $2000; the Louisiana, $2000; H. M. Hudgins' residence, $12,000;
R. L. Williams, story brick, $12,000; Joplin's grocery, $8000; E. Kann's residence, $8000; Leidenwood's bakery, the Tennessee stables, the West house and fifteen cottages of a total value of $15,000.

The fire was a terrible insurance, the loss being practically total. The fire was at the south end of the gulch in which Hot Springs is located, and the wind was from the south. As a result none of the large hotels were at any time in danger.
The fire burned both sides of Ouachita avenue to Hawthorn, one side of Hawthorn to Woodbine, and both sides of Orange to Ouachita street.

A SANGUINARY BATTLE.

Three Hundred Members of a French Expedition to Interior of Africa Killed by Natives.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—The Quotien reports that the French expedition which left Marseilles some months ago, under the command of Commandant Montell, for service in the interior of Africa, was surprised and a sanguinary conflict ensued.
Three hundred men, comprising half of the force of the expedition, are said to have been killed, while the remainder have been driven from the line of march and their retreat has been cut off. The minister of colonies has received an urgent appeal from the commander of the expedition for reinforcements.

Commandant Montell's expedition was intended to join the contingent of Capt.
Kerékou, which was guarding the Ubanghi basin. It numbered about 600 men and eighteen or twenty officers, for the most part soldiers of the foreign legion and Sengalese Tirailleurs, men, who besides being well drilled and armed, were one and all inured to the African climate. The officers, too, were picked men.

The mission was intended to practically assert France's right to the possession of the Hinterland country, extending through the Bar-EI-Chasei, to the left bank of the Nile. This is a part of the section of Africa which the treaty between Great Britain and Belgium had nominally turned over to the former.

The treaty, however, was virtually abandoned owing to the French protests, France denying the right of the Belge-Congolese government to cede the territory to England.

It was also intended that Capt. Montell's force should be used to suppress the course of which he traversed Africa from west to north, beginning at St.
Louis and ending at Tripoli, a voyage the result of which was to increase tenfold the French influence in countries where no Frenchman had set foot before.

Senators Come to Blows.
DENVER, Feb. 22.—Senators George
Pease, of Denver, county and David A.
Mills, of Eagle county, both Populists,
came to blows during the session of the senate today, and a pass struck Mills
the head with a paper weight, inflicting
a serious injury.

LOUIS MENAGE

The President of the Defunct Northwestern Guaranty Company, of Minneapolis, Has Been Heard From.

He Is Anxious to Return and Says He Can Pay All the Company's Obligations.

Thinks He Could Do This Within Five Years, If Criminal Cases Were Not Pressed.

Edward Sullivan, a Night Switchman, Hor-ribly Mutilated and Killed by Box Cars at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 22.—The Journal prints today a letter from Louis F. Menage, president of the defunct Northwestern Guaranty Loan company, explaining his series of large transactions which ultimately led to the company's failure. The letter is not dated, and it is explained that it was written to a personal friend in Minneapolis. Menage goes into the history of the company's real estate transactions in Minneapolis, Helena, Seattle, Ellensburg, Wash., North Galveston, Tex., Great Falls, Mont., and Chicago and explains how they would most of them have been very profitable if the times had continued prosperous.

He contends that his intentions were perfectly honest and that no one has suffered more from the failure than he himself. In explanation of his flight he declares that to stay meant either death or the insane asylum, according to the advice of his physician. He was a physical and mental wreck and unequal to the task of straightening out the affairs of the company.

The purpose of the letter becomes evident, when Mr. Menage declares his belief that if allowed to assist in settling up the affairs of the company he could save very much more for the creditors than any one else, and could in the end pay all claims not only against the company but against himself. He is anxious to undertake this work on a salary singularly sufficient to support his family.

To accomplish this, he says that the criminal suits against him should be continued until the work is done. The other He is confident of his ability to prove his entire innocence, but believes that the trial of the cases would interfere with the profitable settlement of the company's affairs. Consequently he asks that the cases be continued until after this work is done, a period which he estimates would cover five years, and then tried.

It is not yet known what action the county's law officers will take in the matter, but it is already assumed that the creditors of the company will fare far better than was supposed possible when the crash first came.

Washington's Birthday.

This is a day that should be, and probably always will be, very generally observed by the American people. It is the anniversary of the birth of the man of whom it has been said, with a greater degree of truth than most well-known sayings possess, that he was the father of his country. The name of George Washington is immortal. It can never die. So long as the earth exists, the first president of the United States of America will live in history and his deeds will remain recorded in the archives of the greatest nation in the world.

This is an occasion when all partisanship must be laid aside. Neither the Republican party nor the Democratic party can claim George Washington as its own. He was no party man. He was a Unionist only. His sole desire was to see the young republic a compact and indissoluble union of states, and his dream has been more than realized in the great and prosperous nation of today stretching from the great lakes to the gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

No greater lesson in patriotism can be taught to the rising generation than the story of the deeds of George Washington, whom Light Horse Harry Lee described as "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen." He was the leader of the army of British colonists in their gallant and successful struggle for independence, and when victory crowned their efforts he proved an able and wise statesman in the preparation of the constitution under which the various states were united in one harmonious whole. As the great military and moral hero of modern times he stands pre-eminent, and his character is a patriotic heritage which will ever be treasured by the nation which he did so much to bring into existence.

South Dakota's Scandal.

The New York Sun says: "The divorce law of South Dakota has been a shame to the state ever since it became a state. It has given the state a bad name. It has had a demoralizing influence upon it. It has brought untold evil upon many families. It has been a source of fraud. It has been useful only to unworthy men and women. At one time the law was so amended as to require a party to a divorce to reside half a year in the state before beginning an action; but this amendment was repealed last week, and only three months' residence is now required. This legislation is highly discreditable to South Dakota. It is proof that the legislature has no conception of the proper grounds for divorce, or that it is regardless of them. It widens the door of ruin."

The criticisms of the New York paper are well founded. South Dakota's divorce law is not only a shame to that young state but a scandal to the entire Northwest. The recent action of the legislature in reducing the length of residence preceding application for a divorce is disgraceful and shows that the moral tone of the members of the legislature is of a very low character. When South Dakota became a state, the lax territorial law requiring ninety days of residence was repealed, and a residence of six months was required before divorce proceedings could be started. The new law practically destroyed the divorce industry which had been created, and the divorce attorneys and the hotels and boarding houses found their business almost ruined. The law in North Dakota, where only three months' residence is required, attracted the would-be divorcees, and Fargo, instead of Sioux Falls, became the Mecca for people from the East and other sections who desired speedy release from the matrimonial bonds.

The South Dakota attorneys and boarding house keepers this year formed a strong lobby at Pierre and raised a fund to secure the passage of a law placing no limitation upon time of residence. The lobby has done its work, and the bill has been passed by the legislature, to the disgrace of the young state. Thus South Dakota has enacted the loosest divorce law upon the face of the earth. It openly legalizes immorality and strikes a blow at the sacred institution of the home.

There was a story going the rounds of the Missouri papers not long ago that a convict had been pardoned from the state prison to possess of a fortune that had been bequeathed to him. The sequel and explanation are to the effect that the convict's share of the fortune was $650, and that he did not get it, as his brother ran off with it the moment the prison doors were opened.

Home Rule in New York.

The new constitution of New York contains a clause affecting cities which is a peculiar effort at home rule. It gives to the mayors of cities of the first class and to mayors and councilmen of other cities a veto power over all legislation affecting those cities. But unlike the governor's veto, it can be overcome by a bare majority of the legislature.

When a bill is passed affecting a certain city a certified copy of it must be submitted forthwith to the mayor of that city, with direction for him to accord a public hearing of citizens. If the mayor approves the bill, it goes to the governor for his action. If the mayor refuses to approve it, or fails to return it within fifteen days, then the legislature can pass the bill de novo and send it direct to the governor. If this is done the legislature goes upon record as enacting a local law against the desire of the chief official of the locality concerned, and the governor assumes a like responsibility in approving a bill vetoed by a mayor. Much can be said both for and against this constitutional restriction, and its practical working will be watched with interest. It certainly will forbid hasty legislation and have a tendency to prevent the perpetration of jobs, but whether it will not act disadvantageously to the people in many cases remains to be demonstrated by experience.

The New York Tribune says that the Platt meeting in New York city to overawe Mayor Strong was a flat fizzle. Of the 123 Republicans in the legislature, just eight attended. The Tribune asserts that Mayor Strong is pursuing precisely the course which he pledged himself to follow when he accepted the nomination.

In the twenty-five savings banks of New York city the total deposits last year were $33,595,017; withdrawals $30,712,864. On Jan. 1, of this year there remained in these banks due to depositors $351,414,593. The average deposit slightly exceeded $435.

Divorce has been legal in France for eight years, and, according to a recent Paris letter, it has caught on with remarkable celerity. The figures show that in the first year the number of divorces granted was 1700; the second, 4000, and in 1894 it was 8000.

Since the publication of Queen Lil's diary stating the receipt of a present from President Cleveland, it is stated that Grover thinks no woman should keep a diary. Certainly there are some women who should not indulge in such a dangerous habit.

A San Francisco man was recently arrested and fined $10 for sneezing in a theater during a performance. There is now hope that the big theater hat nuisance may get a deadly blow at the Golden Gate.

The sale of the "new Yankees" has demonstrated that the credit of this country is as good as it ever was, and that foreign investors are not afraid of bonds payable in coin, which may be silver.

Count Tolstoi is bringing out a new book, "Priceless Wealth and the Trouble of the Poor." The thousands who are troubled with great wealth will no doubt be anxious to read it.

In New York city last week sales of realty to the amount of $3,000,000 were effected. The real estate market in all parts of the country is showing a healthier tone.

The Herald publishes more Northwestern news daily than any other paper at the head of the lake. And it gives all the news from all other sections of the country.

A Brooklyn scientist says that "the typewriter may be utilized as a source of electricity." This explains some of the shocking stories about them.

At a sheriff's sale in Newcastle, Pa., last week horses were sold at from 5 to 25 cents a head. This is worse than the $2 hog feeding idea.

The fact that the new loan was covered over twenty times in London shows what a snap the syndicate obtained from the administration.

It seems as if the proposed additional United States courts in the Indian territory would gradually snow the tribal courts out of existence.

Utah holds a constitutional convention on March 1. Forty-one Republicans and thirty-seven Democrats will vote on it.

The insurance companies still deny the right of Dr. Fraker to have two Ks in his name.

Fort Dodge Post: This paper will accept the backbone of winter on subscription.

The Difference.
Chicago Dispatch: The Westminster Gazette explains that a journalist is "somebody who keeps a journal," while a newspaperman is "one who writes for a newspaper." In this country the chief difference lies in the fact that the journalist wears his hair long and does little work.

Death of an Illusion.
Washington Star: Nice Old Lady—Will you kindly tell me if the lady who writes the "Mother's Page" in your paper is in? I want to tell her how much I enjoyed reading her articles on "The Evening Hour in the Nursery."

Office Boy—That's him over there, wide pink shirt, smoking a cigar.

Very Mean Trick.
Minneapolis Journal: That was a mean trick—sending Smalley's protest against O'Connor's appointment back to O'Connor by wire, no matter if the president did it. Mr. Cleveland, by his peculiar course, is playing hob with what was left of his party in Minnesota after the last election. There was much of it left, it is true, but it was supposed that he would regard the piece as worth saving.

Chicago no Jericho.
Council Bluffs Nonpareil: The voices of 400 of the clergymen of Chicago were last Sunday lifted up in behalf of the cause of good government in that city. The walls of Jerusalem may have yielded to such an onslaught, but Chicago is quite another city.

Well Qualified to Talk.
Royalty Banner: The editor of the Banner has been selected by the program committee of the Editorial association to read a paper at the winter meeting of the association on "The Editor as a Financier." The program committee is of the opinion that the man who can publish a paper in Rovalton and keep out of the poor house is a financier of the first water.

The Wall of a Woman Editor.
Boyden, Ia., Reporter: We've wrestled with principalities and powers, and pots, kettles and pans, and, last, but not least, "his Satanic majesty," who persisted in printing the paper bottom side up and minus ink, for two weeks, and it is with a sigh of relief that we resume our office work only and will endeavor to attend strictly to business hereafter. But just at present we feel like the editor of the Hanley Journal when he got through with his doom edition.

The Howling Shew.
Minneapolis Times: The women who are "crusading" the saloons of Sioux City claim to have legal advice under which they will close all dram-shops that do not comply with the strict letter of the law. That being the case, why don't they begin their "howling" and quit making howling pageants of themselves?

A Hint for Parlians Shouters.
New York Sun: It is the American people of all parties who are the proper custodians of the memory of Abraham Lincoln, as they are of that of George Washington. Therefore let the celebration of Lincoln's birthday in coming years be as free from factional manifestations as the celebration of Washington's birthday has always been.

Bill Touched the Bullion.
Chicago Tribune: Senator Hill told the exact truth Saturday in stating that the true purpose of these professed friends of silver had been laid bare during the debate on his resolution; that they intended to pay our government obligations in silver coin, no matter how degraded or how depreciated that metal might be; that "such men are not for bimetalism at all, they are for silver and silver only."

A Gas Association.
New York, Feb. 22.—The Carbonic Acid Gas association was organized in this city last night. The organization was effected by gas manufacturers who gathered pursuant to a call issued by Sidney A. Cowen, of this city.

The New Cup Defender.
Bristol, R. I., Feb. 22.—The keel of the new cup defender was run at the Herreshoff yard last night. Twelve men under the veteran boat builder, Benjamin H. Woods, started at the furnace, both of which were operated for the work at hand. The casting was then finished and left to cool.

FOUR SWIFT SKATERS

Johnson, the Skating King of America, Has Rivals in Nilsson, Davidson, Hulse and McCulloch.

They Have Made Great Records on the Ice and Push Johnson Hard for Honors.

Davidson Has Won Four Championships This Year—McCulloch is a Great Backward Skater.

While John S. Johnson is without doubt the skating king of America, he has a number of very formidable rivals for the honor. Prominent among them are John N. Nilsson of Minneapolis. At the championship meeting of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada Feb. 2 in Montreal Nilsson was a very close second to Johnson in the mile race and the half mile race. He is a very close second to Johnson in the mile race and the half mile race. He is a very close second to Johnson in the mile race and the half mile race.

Another very promising skater is Harley Davidson of Toronto. Davidson won two of the Canadian championships at Montreal this year—the 220 yards dash in 21 seconds and the half mile event in 1 minute 21 1/2 seconds. He is at his best in short distance events and hurdle races. He is 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs 145 pounds when well trained and is about 21 years of age. At the championship races of the National Amateur Skating association tion of the United States, which resulted in a disgraceful first fight between a number of the contestants. Davidson won the quarter mile dash, defeating Johnson, who was pushed down, and Joseph F. Donoghue, who, it is said, did the pushing.

In the five mile race Davidson was second to Olaf Rude and won the one mile championship from Johnson. Joe Donoghue, Jim Donoghue, Olaf Rude and Charles Clark in the fast time of 2 minutes 20 1/2 seconds. Davidson has thus won two Canadian and two United States championships this year and has placed a number of fast races to his credit.

J. K. McCulloch of Winnipeg attracted considerable attention among skaters in 1893, when he won the quarter, half mile, one mile and five mile championships of Canada. He is 26 years of age and has been a speed skater of considerable note for over ten years. At the age of 13 years he could skate away from every boy of his acquaintance. A year ago Davidson defeated him in the first heat of the 220 yards Canadian championship, and Joe Donoghue worsted him in the five mile event. He is a very talented backward skater and won the half mile championship this year at Montreal in 1 minute 41 1/2 seconds.

Harry Hulse is another swift Toronto skater. He is 18 years old and 5 feet 1/2 inches tall. He has skated a quarter of a mile in 30 seconds, which is 2 1/2 seconds slower than Harley Davidson's recent world's record quarter in 25 1/2 seconds from standing start. John S. Johnson holds the flying start record of 31 1/4 seconds. Hulse has covered a mile very near the three minute mark and has done other fast work.

HARRY HULSE. HARLEY DAVIDSON.

was considered the champion amateur skater of the world. He had beaten the best men at home and abroad, and it was generally believed that no amateur living could lead him home in a race. Johnson did so on several occasions in 1893, and he has since conclusively proved that he is Donoghue's superior. For the good of amateur sport it is much to be regretted that the recent national skating championships were not held in Duluth.

general row. If the reports of the affair were correct, there would seem to be a promising career as a pugilist before Joe Donoghue, now that he is out of it as a skating champion.

A SEA OF SAND.
A Tale of Dreadful Suffering on the Dry Desert.

Daylight was just breaking as we mounted our horses—24 of us, led by a young lieutenant—and rode out upon the sands of the Great Staked plain. We left trees, grass, flowers and a bubbling spring and a sparkling rivulet behind us. Ahead and to the right, and left was a desert of sand, whereon only the stunted sage bush and the ugly cactus grew. We headed by compass for the other side, and before we had gone a mile some of the men were already slipping at their water bottle. By noon the horses betrayed their thirst, and when night finally came, and we made a fireless and waterless camp we realized that we had not sufficiently prepared for the journey. The water intended to last for three days was almost gone. The men would have quite emptied their bottles had not the officer collected them and watched over them with his own eyes. A new ship of warm and thickening water for the riders—not a drop for the poor horses. I held my horse's mouth open and dropped a dozen drops on his tongue, and he showed his gratitude by rubbing his nose against my cheek.

That night at midnight, made desperate by thirst, the animals stampeded. In a bunch, going straight to the east, and when morning came we piled up saddles and bridles in a heap and set out on the trail of the horses. If the men had suffered with heat while in the saddle, they now suffered far more as their feet sank deep into the sand and the sun was reflected back into their faces. By 11 o'clock the sands were so hot as to almost burn the bare hand, and the feet of the men raised a dust, causing a thirst which only pints of ice cold water could have assuaged. Just as we reached the lieutenant staggered and fell, and the men came up one by one and fell down beside him and made the camp at that spot. There was but a pint of water for 24 men. After a bit the officer dealt it out in the shell of a cartridge. The twenty-fourth of a pint for a man whose tongue was dry as a stick—whose voice was only a whisper—who had cursed or wept as he lurched over the hot sands and remembered the ice cold spring we had left behind on the western side. The relief did not last above a minute. There was scarcely enough to moisten the tongue.

The men cursed as they handed back the shell and lay down. Some tried to sleep; others ate their ground coffee and hard tack and nibbled at their salt meat and thus added to their thirst. No one wanted food. Every man would have given all his earthly possessions for a pint of water. There was no dew. A dozen times during that long night men got up to see if the handkerchiefs spread on the sands had caught any dampness, but they were as dry as if just taken out of an oven. It was a night of wailing and cursing and suffering. When morning came the lieutenant, who was hardly more than a boy and not in robust health, looked wild and talked queerly. No orders were given. We rose up, one by one, looked around us in a dazed way, and then resumed the march. Here and there two men walked side by side, but most of them walked alone. It seems to me as I think it over that every man talked to himself, and every one's voice was wonderfully changed. The talk was all about wells and springs and brooks and ice, and it added to one's misery to hear it. It was every man for himself.

We had a lieutenant, a sergeant and two corporals, but I cannot remember that any of them gave any orders. The men sat down or marched on. At noon eight of us happened to be sitting together. I counted them over and over and am sure there were eight. No one else was in sight. No one asked what had become of the others. About mid-afternoon, as we were toiling painfully along, I counted again. This time we were only five. Not a word was said about the others and the men in the lead fell down and stretched out, the rest of us did the same, and thus we went into camp. Night had come and I was drowsing when I heard the corporal say to Peters:

"It is not water, but it will stop this awful thirst."

"What is it?" asked Peters after a long interval.

"Blood!"

"Whose blood?"

"I know!"

No more was said between them, but it came to me in a dim way that they meant to kill me and drink my blood. I was not frightened at first, but after a little, fear began to steal into my heart and I rose up and ran off into the darkness. I ran till I fell exhausted, and from that time all was blank for four days. Our horses reached the eastern side, and the pioneers who found them suspected what had occurred and came to our relief. They carried us as quickly as possible, but they were too late to save the majority. Ten out of 24 were picked up as they wandered about in delirium or had laid down dead. The others were dead—dead of sunstroke, thirst or the fangs of the rattlesnakes on which they trod as they pressed forward to drink at a spring they believed to be bubbling up from the sands of the desert.

M. QUAD.

The country printing office is really our only school of journalism, and its graduates are found everywhere and hold responsible positions on all the metropolitan papers. There is no other place where preparatory general training for the duties of the profession can be obtained, where a young man can learn to be an all round journalist. In the large city offices the division of labor, and particularly the assignment system as to reporters, tends to place men in grooves and keep them there, making them proficient in only one of various essentials, chilling their enthusiasm and delaying and preventing their promotion.

Such handicaps are unavoidable perhaps in the organization of newspaper forces for the accomplishment of the best results, but they are to be regretted nevertheless, because they specialize talent that should be generalized and detract from the advantage of thoroughness which in all professions as well as trades has so much to do with the matter of employment and earnings. In the country offices, on the other hand, a man plays all the parts in turn and is drilled for every kind of work. He is not thereby made a finished journalist, competent to fill any position, but he gets a grasp of the profession as a whole and can more readily adapt himself to its diverse requirements than one who lacks this discipline.—Forum.

GREAT AMATEUR SHOTS

Fred Hoey and George Work Stand at the Head.

HOEY'S SHOOTING AT MONTE CARLO.

He is Slight and Boyish in Appearance and a Dandy at the Traps—Work Has Killed Sixty-eight Pigeons Out of One Hundred, Which Is the Amateur Record.

One of the greatest amateur wing shots of America is Fred Hoey, who recently added to his fame by dividing first and second stakes in the Prix de Diane with M. Lo at Monte Carlo, the world's greatest resort for pigeon shooters. In this contest Mr. Hoey met 52 of the best marksmen of Europe and tied for first place, a feat that stamps him as belonging in the very first rank of the world's wing shots. Five years ago Fred Hoey had never had a gun in his hand except to regard it with curiosity. Today he is universally conceded to be the best sweepstakes shot in the country. He is not so reliable in a match. Shooting pigeons came to him like a revelation. In one season he had developed form that comes to most men only after long and arduous work. He has never shot in the field, and the habits and chase of the game have been an unbroken task to him. He is simply a pigeon shooting machine developed to the highest state of perfection. He is the youngest son of the late John Hoey, the express magnate, is 30 years old, tall, slight and boyish in appearance and is a great dandy at the traps, though lately he has taken to an elaborate campaign jacket and slouch hat.

His career as a shot for the last three years is remarkable. He has beaten every one of the cracks and has won more sweepstakes and cups than half dozen of them together. His form has gone off somewhat during the last year, owing probably to the cares and anxieties entailed by the settlement of his father's estate.

FRED HOEY AT THE TRAPS.

When ready for business, he leans forward somewhat toward the traps, his left arm extended straight, his right elbow even with the ear. Unlike all the other cracks, Fred Hoey shuts his left eye as he sights, the others shooting with both eyes open. He keeps the same command of time as George Work, nor is he so quick with his first barrel, but his aim is astonishingly rapid and unerring and his nerve usually steady to the end. His best score is 97 out of a possible 100, made at the Westminster club in the famous four handed match, when Hoey and Thompson shot against Work and Maclester. He neither drinks nor smokes and uses a hammerless gun.

Another great amateur shot is George Work, who devotes most of his time to the joys of pigeon shooting, and whose score of 98 killed out of a possible 100, made at Cranston Whist Club, Boston, the professional, is the amateur record to date. George Work is the only son of Mr. Frank Work and has been devoted to athletic sports ever since he was big enough to hold up his hands. He is a fine sparrer, a thoroughgoing yachtsman and in his day one of the best steeplechase riders in the country, says the New York Herald. It is only within three years that he has devoted much time to pigeon shooting, although he has always been a fine pigeon shot. He is now 32 years old, 5 feet 11 inches tall, weight about 175 pounds, of perfectly proportioned physique, a smooth face, clearly cut features, a moderate smoker, but total abstainer from spirits.

He is called the Great Brumel of the traps, because he usually shoots in his evening clothes, which are made of the tailor's art. Of late he has been changing his coat for a Norfolk jacket, as worn in the accompanying picture. Work's great strength lies in his ability to change his time according to wind and the quality of his birds. He has at least three distinct times, which he uses at will. When shooting his fastest, he is quicker with his first than any other man in the country. His attitude is the perfection of ease and grace, his feet rather close, body erect, his left hand well extended on the barrel and his right elbow on a level with his ear. As he polices his gun ready to shoot he moves it slightly back to the shoulder and out again. His "Ready? Pull!" is as gentle as his "Good morning!" to a pretty woman. He is shooting in superb form right straight along, but is a trifle worried by a mis. He uses a hammerless gun of the very latest pigeon model. One of Work's misadventures in his career was his defeat of Champion E. D. Fulford in February, 1893, by a score of 89 to 88 out of a possible 100. Fulford is without doubt the greatest wing shot the world has and has killed his 100 birds straight. He afterward turned the tables on Work.

IS AGAIN OPERATING

J. C. Turner's Bucket Shop, After Being Closed Several Weeks, is Again Doing Business.

Mayor Lewis is at New Orleans and the Grand Jury Has Closed Its Labors.

Some Inside Facts in Relation to the Special Wire Service Used by Mr. Turner.

For some months past there has been operated in the room in the rear of the jewelry shop in the St. Louis Hotel building a full fledged bucket shop. J. C. Turner has always been the presiding genius. About three or four weeks before the city election the place was closed up. The police were complained to and their interview with Mr. Turner was sufficient to convince him that it would be wise to close the doors and lay low for a time at least.

On Monday last the grand jury made its final report after being in session about two weeks and was discharged. On the same day the following appeared in the personals in The Herald:

"Mayor and Mrs. Ray T. Lewis left this afternoon for New Orleans and the Mardi Gras."

On the following day, Tuesday, the bucket shop was again open for business and Mr. Turner once more smiled serenely as the dollars rolled into the cash box. Whether the departure of the mayor and the discharge of the grand jury and the subsequent reopening of the bucket shop were merely coincidences or a matter which any person is at liberty to figure out for himself. Suffice it to say the place is running again and to all appearances there has been no change in the men who want to get something for nothing anxiously waiting for the opening.

It is interesting to step in and watch operations. The place is its blackboard just like any commission office, but it is not grain quotations or quotations of well known stocks that excite the crowd here. Four stocks are dealt in and are quoted on the board. They are: "North and West Canyon," "Rainy Lake and Castle Mountain," "Pilot Rock and Lasca," and "Little Belt and Big Fork." On one side is a board labeled Chicago markets, but it looks as though it had not been used in months.

How it Operates.

At one end of the platform is a ticker and every half minute or so the quotations are reeled off and are posted on the board. On the floor are lines of chairs filled with the armies of the unemployed and they watch the board with feverish excitement. Every few moments one of them gets up and slides over to the desk. There is a line of coin and he comes back with a piece of paste board. From then on the board claims his undivided attention. Sometimes the crowd at the desk gets pretty large and then the ticker for some strange reason does not operate so rapidly.

Business goes on all day long until 5 p. m. and there is always plenty of coin in sight to make it an object to operate.

A Herald reporter visited Chief Armstrong this morning and asked him why the place was allowed to be reopened. He said:

"Some weeks ago we had complaints against the place and ordered it closed. A few days ago Turner came to me and said he was going to re-open. He said he had leased a wire to Minneapolis from the North American Telegraph company at $500 a year and was going to conduct as straight a business as any commission broker in town. He claimed the companies in whose stocks he intended to deal were incorporated and have mines in Montana. He said he would stand ready to deliver any stocks he sold and would be prepared to go to law at any time and defend the legality of his business."

Superintendent H. A. Tuttle, of the North American Telegraph company, is in the city today and a Herald reporter called on him and asked if Mr. Turner had leased a wire with his company. "No, sir," he said; "no such man has any wire from us."

Manager Fletcher, of the Western Union, was also called upon and said that Mr. Turner had leased no wire from his company.

Where it Comes From.

The question then arising was where Mr. Turner's wire is. It was ascertained that Turner rents room 603 on the sixth floor of the Chamber of Commerce. He rents it without janitor service and no one has access to the room. One of the first steps taken after the room was occupied was to place a Yale lock on the door. The regular building pass key will therefore not open it. The outside door is lettered "Office of George Westbury, lawyer." Mr. Westbury has long since vacated, but the sign still remains. No one has access to the room except Charles Fox, a telegraph operator, who has been in the employ of Mr. Turner for some months.

Anyone who went up there yesterday afternoon and stood outside the door could easily have heard telegraph instruments working and there is but one supposition possible—that Mr. Turner's expensive wire service emanates from that room.

If this be true, just think of what a skin game it is if Mr. Turner can give his operators signals by means of electric bells or instruments of any sort. A man would stand a thousand times better chances at roulette than he would in getting against that game.

Complaints were made to the police authorities today and Turner was visited. He quickly repeated the statements made to Chief Armstrong and said he would like to have some of the people who object bring an action and test the case. He said he was going to see his attorney right away and prepare to defend himself against any interference.

Places of this character have started up in other cities and have been summarily dealt with and forced to close. Whether Duluth will follow their example or will continue to tolerate the game remains to be seen.

LIBEL CHARGED.

Charles A. Dana, Editor of the New York Sun, to Be Arrested for Criminal Libel.

The Charge is Preferred by Frank Noyes, of the Washington Star, Whom Dana Roasted.

Mr. Noyes is a Member of the Associated Press and This Caused Dana's Attack.

The United Press, of Which Dana is President, Rapidly Nearing the End of Its Rope.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—A Washington special to the World this morning says: Frank B. Noyes, business manager of the Evening Star of this city, and one of the most prominent and popular young men in Washington, announced this evening that he had telegraphed to his lawyers in New York to have Charles A. Dana, editor of the New York Sun, arrested for criminal libel.

The Sun this morning printed a long editorial attacking the management of the Associated Press in the course of which was the sentence: "They (the subscribers of the Associated Press) may see their way to making such a thoroughly dishonest director as F. B. Noyes, of Washington, for instance, refund to them the amount of extra assessments out of which they have been bunched." This attack on Mr. Noyes created a directing bitter attacks against everybody connected with the rival organization. In my case the animus is clearly apparent. At the most critical period in the history of the Associated Press, when it was struggling to obtain strength in the East, I changed the Star into an Associated Press paper and soon after influenced the change which was made bodily by the Baltimore papers.

"Since that was done I have heard very general thins the United Press people were very bitter against me. Acquaintances have repeated to me remarks said to have been made about me by Mr. Dana and others, and various publications have been made by them. In fact they made of me a much more important person than I am. However, I have taken no notice of these attacks before, as none of them cast reflections on my personal integrity. This one I cannot consent to ignore."

Pure materials are half the battle in the struggle for good housekeeping. Kitchen agent can compare with Dr. Price's cream baking powder.

IT IS NEARING THE END.

The United Press Seems to Be on the Verge of Dissolution.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The Evening Star yesterday published the following comment on an editorial in the New York Sun: "In the struggle between the Associated Press and the United Press the latter is evidently nearing the end of its rope, and the New York Sun—the head and front of the United Press—in recognition of this fact makes this morning a last desperate and malignant assault upon the Associated Press and its management." "These ventings of impotent spite at the moment of realizing utter defeat might ordinarily be contemptuously disregarded, and the Star would not indignify the matter by notice, if the Sun had not turned aside from its billingsgate assault upon the Associated Press in general to a highly imputed dishonesty to the director who represents the Star in the Associated Press management." "For this malicious, personal libel, committed without a shadow of justification or excuse, the Sun shall be made to

ON BIMETALLISM

Senator Wolcott Offers a Resolution to Create an American Commission to Meet Other Countries.

Idea Is to Hold Another International Monetary Conference to Secure a Plan of Bimetallism.

Nine Commissioners Are to Be Appointed, Three by the President and Six by Congress.

House Decides to Give an Extra Month's Pay to Congressional Employees and Members' Clerks.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—A memorial from the Idaho legislature was presented in the senate today protesting against the pooling bill as a plan to place the railroads in the hands of a vast syndicate and thus crush competition under the iron heel of monopoly. Mr. Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee, presented a comprehensive resolution for an investigation by the committee of the effect of the tariff and internal revenue laws.

Mr. Wolcott then came forward with an interesting proposition authorizing the creation of an American commission to meet with foreign countries should they take the initiative in an international monetary conference. The plan was offered as an amendment to the sundry civil bill now on the calendar and about to be taken up. It is as follows:

Whereas, the president of the United States, upon the invitation of Germany or Great Britain or any other governments of Europe shall determine that this government shall be represented at any international or other conference to be held with a view to secure, internationally, a fixity of relative values between gold and silver as money, by means of a common ratio between those metals with free minting at such ratio, he shall be authorized the attendance of the commissions to be appointed as hereinafter provided, to attend such conference in behalf of the United States. The number of such commissioners shall be nine. The president of the United States shall appoint, by and with the consent of the senate, three of said commissioners prior to the adjournment of the present congress. The others shall be a joint committee of this congress, three to be members of the senate and three of the house of representatives. If after the adjournment of this congress there shall be any vacancies in said commission by death, resignation or otherwise, such vacancies shall be filled by appointment by the president.

The amendment makes available $100,000 for expenses of the commission. "It is satisfactory," said Mr. Wolcott, "to those who vote for bimetallism, and it should be satisfactory to those gentlemen who talk for bimetallism, and vote against it, and who await with ravished eyes to see what England would do." He asked that the amendment go to the finance committee.

Mr. Hale made the suggestion that the sundry civil bill was so soon to be considered that there should be no delay in getting the amendment from the finance committee and to the appropriation committee.

Senator Butler, at 3 p. m., moved to take up the railroad pooling bill. The motion was defeated, yeas 24, nays 42.

The House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—In the house, Mr. Tracey offered an amendment to the deficiency bill to give the employees of the house and senate an extra month's pay. Mr. Livingston offered another amendment to that of Mr. Tracey, to give an extra month's pay to the individual clerks to members. Strong protests were made but both amendments were adopted.

Wouldst breakfast in luxury? See that Dr. Price's cream baking powder is in the food.

Four Mill Burned.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—[Special to The Herald.]—A release of pension was today granted to Josiah Myers, of Elm-dale, Minn.

The Oregon Senatorship.

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 23.—A caucus of the Delph men today was attended by nearly all of his supporters. It was decided to stand by Delph. It is understood that if toward evening no election results, another caucus will be held.

sensation here. No one stands higher in the capital than he, either in business or society. All during the day Mr. Noyes received assurances that his acquaintances thoroughly believed in him. Mr. Noyes himself acted promptly. In the Evening Star tonight the leading editorial article concluded with these words: "For this malicious, personal libel, committed without a shadow of justification or excuse, the Sun shall be made to suffer if there is any virtue in the criminal law of New York."

In accordance with this Mr. Noyes had early telegraphed to New York for counsel, but could not conduct negotiations on account of the holiday. His case will probably be conducted by Gen. Wager Swayne. The matter will be taken up in the morning and papers will be prepared. On Sunday Mr. Noyes will go to New York and finish the preparations for the prosecution of his criminal suit.

"I shall have Mr. Dana arrested and he will be arraigned in a police court," said Mr. Noyes tonight. "I shall press the matter if there is any virtue in New York law. I have telegraphed for the preparation of papers charging the editor of the Sun with criminal libel, and due proceedings are to be taken on them. I cannot leave for New York until Sunday, but I will then go over there and give the matter my personal attention."

"Of course this whole matter has grown out of the complications which have arisen in the Historical Press association. It has often been open charged that the editor of the Sun was responsible for the wreck of the Associated Press. The papers that took such a view rallied around the Associated Press, then the Western Associated Press, and of course, the editor of the Sun, as president of the United Press, has always felt it incumbent upon himself to defend his organization and prevent encroachments being made by the Associated Press."

"He has done this in his own manner,

EMBEZZLEMENT IS CHARGED.

A Minneapolis Man Arrested at Mankato and Taken Home.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 23.—E. J. Wheeler, secretary and treasurer of the Central Publishing company, of Minneapolis, and former bookkeeper of the Swinburn Printing company, was arrested Thursday night, one day after his arrival, on the charge of embezzlement. The complaint was made by F. H. Andrews, a stockholder of the second named company, and its manager for a time after its assignment. Wheeler denies the charge and says that he can explain all.

There was a discrepancy, but he does not believe that anyone was guilty of embezzlement. He believes himself charged as accessory, and held as a witness, and claims that the company owes him for wages. He was taken to Minneapolis today.

A Woman Assaulted.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Feb. 23.—Mrs. A. C. Keniston, wife of the proprietor of the hotel at Altoona, was assaulted by Joseph Lambert, the hired man, yesterday afternoon. Besides hitting her on the head and shoulders, he must have used a knife, as she was badly cut about the neck and a piece of her ear severed. Her cries brought her husband. Lambert escaped, but is pursued by the sheriff. Mrs. Keniston, while badly hurt, will recover.

Two Bills Vetoed.

DESIGNS FOR THE CAPITOL.

The Experts Awarded the Prize to a Denver Firm.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 23.—There has been much mystery about the results of the prize competition inaugurated by the Minnesota state capitol commission for designs for the new state capitol.

Forty-six sets of designs were examined by two experts, Edmund M. Wheelwright, of Boston, and Henry J. Cobb, of Chicago. Their report has been kept secret, although both houses of the legislature demanded it. At Governor Clough's suggestion committees from both houses were named to inspect the report.

The Journal today publishes the result of the competition. The first prize is awarded to Wendell & Humphreys, of Denver, Col.; second to Julius S. Schweinfurth, of Boston; third to George R. Mann, of St. Louis; fourth to George DeGersdaff, of New York, and fifth to W. B. Dunnell, of Minneapolis.

IT WAS A GREAT FIGHT

The Recent Struggle by Maj. Baldwin in the House to Pass the Altamonte Bill.

Col. Kiefer Presented a Letter Against It From Horace V. Winchell, Which Had Considerable Weight.

Winchell Ridiculed Claims Made by Altamonte Agents and Called the Scheme Visionary and Chimerical.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—[Special to The Herald].—The greatest fight which has been made against any private bill in the Fifty-third congress culminated last Monday in the vote under suspension of the rules on the passage of the Altamonte Water company's bill. It dates back nine months, during the first three months of which Representative Baldwin held the bill in committee until he could determine the financial status and character of the company, and the wishes of the people of Duluth.

When satisfied on this point he took the bill up in committee and in a committee fight, severe, as Chairman Holman admits, than any that had ever come under his experience, secured a favorable report. Through the efforts of Representative Bingham some local points were raised which were referred to the judiciary committee. Here Baldwin met the attorneys and others interested in the opposition and succeeded in refuting all their arguments to the satisfaction of the members of the committee. It was impossible to secure consideration on this bill against this opposition in the house other than by suspension of the rules, and this at first was refused by Speaker Crisp because, through the representation of the opponents, he looked upon the bill as of doubtful character. Representative Baldwin succeeded, however, in getting a hearing before the committee on rules. There were present at this meeting of the committee Speaker Crisp, Thomas B. Reed, Cannon and Catcheside. The case was argued from both sides and resulted in the unusual privilege being granted of the consideration of the bill under suspension of the rules.

At the suggestion of Speaker Crisp this measure was made third on the list of bills for consideration under suspension of the rules. Had it been placed second on the list, it is conceded the bill would have passed by a fair majority but as it requires a two-thirds vote to carry a bill under suspension of the rules and with the exception of Thomas B. Reed and a few others the Republican side of the house were united against it, the necessary two-thirds could not be secured.

The strength developed by Representative Baldwin on the Democratic side of the house as shown by the vote was remarkable, lacking but twenty on the final vote to the passage of the bill. Every member of the Minnesota delegation, except Hall and Baldwin, opposed the bill. The lumber interests represented by Congressman Stevenson, the man who has the reputation of never having asked recognition of the speaker, canvassed time and again the entire membership of the house denouncing the Altamonte company as thieves and robbers.

During the debate in the house, Col. Kiefer presented a letter from Professor Horace V. Winchell, of Minneapolis, which had considerable weight. The letter was as follows:

Dear Sir: In reply to your inquiry as to my views of the Altamonte Canal company's scheme for developing a water power at Duluth, I would say that I have made some investigations into their plan, and do not arrive at the same conclusion as the Altamonte company regarding its feasibility. In at least four material points I am obliged to dissent from the estimated figures of the company. It was claimed by Col. E. C. Gridley in his remarks before the Minneapolis Commercial club:

1. That 50,000 horse power can be developed at Duluth under a head of 65 feet, and that, too, after receiving material points I am obliged to dissent from the estimated figures of the company. It was claimed by Col. E. C. Gridley in his remarks before the Minneapolis Commercial club:

2. That the reservoir produced by a 30-foot dam at Cloquet will back the water to a point four and a half miles distant from the Mississippi river, and will thus constitute a continuous waterway from the top of the hill at Duluth to a point so near the Mississippi.

3. That, allowing $2,500,000 for the cost of improvements, including the dam, canal, land, damages are riparian rights and power plant, the power could and would be sold at a yearly rental of $10 per horse power.

Regarding these estimates and claims, my opinion, based on the facts and authorities which are mentioned to support it, is as follows:

1. The total amount of power that can be developed at Duluth under a 60-foot head (which is all that can be possibly obtained), using all the water in the river at ordinary low state, is 95,377 horse power. Of this, at an efficiency of 75 per cent, there would be an available power of 71,532 horse power. In computing this I take the area of watershed at 350 square miles, the rainfall at thirty inches annually, the minimum volume of water in the river at about 20 per cent of the rainfall of four-tenths of a cubic foot for each square mile of watershed.

Bearing on this very point, I find the estimate of James L. Greenleaf in the seventeenth volume of the tenth census of the United States. He gives the average rainfall on the St. Louis river basin as thirty inches, the average flow per square mile of drainage area in ordinary low water as four-tenths of a cubic foot, and figures out an available horse power of 60,760.

2. It is unreasonable to expect to find a market within the next decade, and simply preposterous to talk about selling 100,000 horse power there.

3. The gap between the proposed reservoir and the Mississippi river will be several times greater than four and one-half miles.

4. It is unreasonable to expect to find a market within the next decade, and simply preposterous to talk about selling 100,000 horse power there.

5. The gap between the proposed reservoir and the Mississippi river will be several times greater than four and one-half miles.

6. It is unreasonable to expect to find a market within the next decade, and simply preposterous to talk about selling 100,000 horse power there.

7. The gap between the proposed reservoir and the Mississippi river will be several times greater than four and one-half miles.

8. It is unreasonable to expect to find a market within the next decade, and simply preposterous to talk about selling 100,000 horse power there.

ARE HEIRS TO MILLIONS.

Sixteen People Among Whom $15,000,000 Will Be Divided.

BRIDGEVIEW, Ill., Feb. 23.—Mrs. John Muni, who lives south of here, has just fallen heir to $15,000,000 by the death of an uncle in Africa. When only 16 years old the uncle, William McKay, ran away from Scotland and located in the gold fields of Africa.

His parents died and everybody lost track of him. He died some time ago leaving an estate of $15,000,000. There are sixteen heirs living in Minnesota, Michigan and Illinois, among whom the estate will be divided.

HISSED BY THE SPECTATORS.

A Six-Round Bout by Peter Maher and Jim Hall.

BOSTON, Feb. 23.—The Suffolk Athletic club at a meeting last night presented a 6-round bout between Peter Maher, champion middleweight of Ireland, and Jim Hall, of Australia, as the chief feature. The referee, J. A. Kelliher, called a draw at the finish and the 2000 spectators who were present hissed the decision.

The battle was very tame, Maher forcing the fighting in all but the fourth round and doing the most effective work. Through the contest Hall was on the defensive, and the coolness with which both men smugly walked to their corners, called forth hisses from the spectators.

CURRY IS INDIGNANT.

Denies the Recent Interview on the Iron Ore Outlook.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 23.—A special to the Tribune from Ironwood, Mich., says: President Curry of the Metropolitan Iron and Land company, is highly indignant over the purported interview which appeared in Milwaukee and Chicago papers, wherein he is quoted as saying that nothing but disaster awaited the Lake Superior iron district and all the cities thereof.

Mr. Curry makes a general denial. He was very much worked up over the affair yesterday and said the Gogebic and Marquette ranges would be doing business at the old stand for generations to come.

ROTTENNESS IS SUSPECTED.

Members of the Linsseed Oil Trust Becoming Aroused.

BOONE, Iowa, Feb. 23.—The oil mill owners of this city, members of the linsseed oil trust, have had their suspicion aroused by a report that the Linsseed Oil Trust is a fraud and a swindle.

A meeting of the stockholders in Boone mill has just been held resulting in the adoption of a resolution appropriating $100,000 for the purpose of making a thorough investigation.

It is alleged that during the past three years the first rail in the conduct of the trust, in the conduct of the affairs of the trust, the investigation will be a big task involving an examination of the books of seventy mills.

Two Factions of Indians in California Ready to Fight.

INDO, Cal., Feb. 23.—There is every prospect of war between the factions of the tribe of Coahuila Indians as near Indio, Cabazon, the hereditary chief, is nearly 80 years old and when the reservation was managed by Agent Rust, Cabazon refused to correct alleged abuses in the relations between the Indians and the agent.

Accordingly Joaquin Torres revolted and with a number of followers established a separate camp across the valley. There have been continual quarrels between adherents of the rival chiefs and in settling recent disputes the present Indian agent, Francisco Estudillo, sentenced Anton Razon, one of Cabazon's lieutenants, to five days' work for Torres, the new chief.

Cabazon's followers are preparing to resist force to arrest Razon. They are armed with rifles and ammunition and have a large supply of whiskey. The trouble is predicted if the orders concerning Razon are not rescinded.

FINALLY BROKEN UP.

The Phenomenally Cold Weather Which Has Prevailed in Great Britain Has Yielded at Last.

Once It Was Thought That the Thames Would Be Entirely Closed at London Bridge.

Close of an Exciting Week in Political Circles—Premier Rosebery Severely Attacked by Influenza.

[Copyrighted, 1895, by the Associated Press.]

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The phenomenal cold weather which has been prevailing in Great Britain seems to be finally broken up. The mercury now stands at about the freezing point in most parts of the country. Traffic on the Thames, which had long been at a standstill, owing to the great quantities of floating ice, is being gradually resumed. At one time it was thought that the river would be entirely closed at London bridge, and many people were anxious for it to occur so they might take themselves the honor of telling how they crossed the river on the ice.

Now that the weather shows signs of becoming more reasonable, hunting and racing are expected to be in full swing. Interest is increasing in the bye election which has been brought to seek honor from the British turf, and their performances when in training will be carefully watched.

The week's closing has been an exciting one politically. On the whole, the government, instead of having been turned out of office on the question of the Indian duties on cotton, is now stronger than it was a week ago. To begin with the victory at Colchester, where the Liberals in the bye election succeeded in getting the seat from the Conservatives by a very comfortable majority, was a great fill-up to the waning party spirits which have been lessened by the reverses sustained in previous bye elections in the different parts of the country.

The exact nature of the leaders of the opposition towards the motion of Sir Henry James, to adjourn the house of commons, in order to call attention to the cotton duties in India, would be too tedious to detail at present. The motion was an ill-advised attempt to dislodge the government is widely conceded. It is alleged that the motion had the support of ex-Prime Minister Salisbury.

Some comment has been aroused by the speech against the motion made by Dadabhai Naoroji who was once called a "black man," by Lord Salisbury. Mr. Naoroji is a full blooded Indian, his father having been a Parsi priest. His mother's name was Manekbai. His wife is the daughter of a priest. He has held several important political positions, and is a member of the firm of Cama & Co., of London, Liverpool, Bombay and Calcutta.

It will thus be seen that he is fully qualified to speak on the subject of the native Indian population. He declared in the course of his speech that the adoption of the motion would be detrimental to the cause of the British rule in India, and in view of the ever present fear Eastern question his statement is not without significance.

The statistics show that last week there was a total of 2467 deaths from all causes in London. This is an increase of 700 over the deaths of the preceding week.

The illness which confines Prime Minister Rosebery to his bed is a sharp attack of influenza. He passed a restless night but somewhat better this morning. Influenza now prevails in epidemic form throughout London. Entire families are affected by the disease and many firms in the city are working with depleted forces, owing to the illness of many of their employees. The malady is especially widespread in the East. End of Londoners' suffering is yet in the West End. About three-fourths of the members of the house of commons are suffering from colds, and several of them are so severely affected as to be confined to their homes. A number of schools have been compelled to close on account of sickness among their pupils.

Are the inhabitants of Mars trying to signal the people of the earth? Many astronomers think so. They probably wait a supply of Dr. Price's cream baking powder.

The cure of Olive Carl by Hood's Sarsaparilla has few equals in medical history. The testimonial was first published two years ago, and a late letter from her mother says Olive continues in good health and "We are satisfied her remarkable cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla was permanent." Hood's Sarsaparilla was permanent. When briefly stated the case was this: "When peeled to cut her hair, as she could not bear the weight of it. At first the change for the better was very gradual; the pains seemed to be less frequent and the swelling in some of the joints subsided after using about one bottle. Then improvement was more rapid and one night she surprised us greatly by telling us that we need not prop her up in bed as we had done for several months, and next night she surprised us still more by getting over the bed. From that time on improvement was very rapid and she soon began to creep about the house and then to walk on crutches. Now she generally uses but one crutch, the disease having left one leg crooked, and I feel it will remain so. We feel that to Hood's Sarsaparilla we owe our child's life.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Postmaster Patterson of Proctorknott Was Here Today and Talked Much of His Town.

Sidewalks Are Being Built, Street Grading Is Planned and Many Improvements Will Soon Be Made.

Town Election Will Be Held on March 12 and Much Interest Is Already Being Manifested.

H. R. Patterson, Uncle Sam's representative at Proctorknott, was down this morning and gracefully submitted to an interview in regard to the future prospects of the enterprising little village on the hill top. He states that coming appearances indicate that the coming summer will be a lively one with the Proctorknott people.

M. P. Doyle, who was elected street commissioner a short time ago, has twenty-five to thirty men employed in building sidewalks. Other public improvements projected for the year include a bridge over Kingsbury creek and some street grading.

Mr. H. R. Patterson, formerly engineer of West Duluth, now holds a similar position at the new village.

The well known social proclivities of the railway boys will be satisfied next Monday night by a dance at the home of Rice Harper. It is expected that a number of Duluth and West Duluth people will be in attendance.

Town talk is principally taken up with the village election, which takes place on the 12th of March.

The great need of the place now is more dwellings, and there is a good field for investment in the erection of small cottages for rent at reasonable figures.

At least a dozen of the railway boys have had plans drawn for houses to be built as soon as the building season opens up. Mr. Patterson himself expects to build a commodious structure for use as a store and postoffice.

Mr. Connery, formerly proprietor of the Mitchell & McClellan boarding house at West Duluth, has a fine stopping place for both regulars and transients and Mr. Patterson says is very acceptably filling the position of village landlord.

It is learned from a very reliable source that the railway company will surely locate their shops at Proctorknott and that work will be commenced on them this summer. Taken as a whole the outlook is quite favorable for the development of quite a little boomlet in Proctorknott.

Professor C. Gilbert Wheeler, of Chicago, says: "As a result of frequent examinations of Dr. Price's cream baking powder I am fully satisfied that it is an excellent article, especially remarkable for strength and purity."

Missionaries Rescued.—Feb. 23.—Secretary Herbert has received a cablegram from Admiral Carpenter commanding the Asiatic squadron, saying that the gunboat Yorktown returned to Chefoo yesterday with thirteen missionaries who had been rescued from places of danger. The flagship Baltimore and the Charleston are also at Chefoo.

Hopelessly Divided.—WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The jury in the Howgate case this morning reported to Judge McComas that apparently they were hopelessly divided. The judge inquired of the jury whether they were agreed and they answered in the affirmative and will probably discharge the jury until at least Monday in case the disagreement continues.

In the past five weeks I have made over $500, and I am so thankful that I feel like telling everybody, so that they can be benefited by my experience. Anybody can sell Dish Washers because everybody wants one, especially when it can be got so cheap. I believe that in two years from now every family will have one. You can get full particulars by addressing the Iron City Dish Washer Co., P. O. Box 100, Pittsburg, Pa., and you can't help but make money in this business. I believe that I can clear over $5000 a coming year, and I am not going to let such an opportunity pass without improvement. We can't expect to succeed without trying.

Wheat Stocks Here Will Show an Increase of 425,000 Bushels.

Wheat was dull and easier today. Foreign markets were without change. Northwestern receipts were liberal, but offerings were not heavy. May started 57c lower at 57 1/2c, sold up to 58c and then steadily declined to 57c, with little trading. July and early 57c and later at 58c. Cash wheat was dull. About 20,000 bushels of hard red winter wheat were in the market but ready to take any other offer. The May price, while the elevators had only 100,000 bushels, was 57 1/2c. The price of wheat here will show an increase of 425,000 bushels this week.

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1895.

MINNESOTA
SOCIETY.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Winter Club Will Give a Cotillion to Its Members on Tuesday Evening at Masonic Hall.

Ladies' Night at the Kitchi Gammi Club Was Last Wednesday and the Attendance Was Large.

Firemen's Ball Last Evening at the Spaulding—Musicals at Miss Grace Collins' Home Yesterday.

The twenty-fifth anniversary reception of Palestine lodge was the great public social affair of this week and was the most largely attended event ever given in Duluth. The Temple was packed at the entertainment. After the dancing began in the banquet hall the crowd was tremendous. Muhlbauer & Trautvetter's orchestra played and dancing continued until 2 a. m. Refreshments were served to all and the excellent manner in which the large crowd was handled was little short of marvelous.

The Lenten season begins on Wednesday next and a lull in social movements may then be expected. Not that Duluth society has been particularly active, but it will simply be more quiet than ever.

A RAILROAD SOCIAL.

Novel Entertainment Prepared by the Ladies of Pilgrim Church.

On Friday evening next the ladies of Pilgrim Congregational church will give a railroad social at the church parlors. Now those who have never been to a railroad social are totally unaware of with Anton Schott is a native of California. She inherits her talent from her mother, who was an accomplished pianist and vocalist. At an early age Mme. Meyer's talent was so strongly shown that she was placed under the instruction of the great masters. She studied many years abroad, mainly in Milan, Berlin and Paris. She has an intensely dramatic nature and has made some of her most prominent successes in the great dramatic roles of the lyric stage. At a Wagnerian musical festival at Indianapolis last May she was recalled eight times. Her appearance last June in Madison Square Garden and other important concerts in the East and Canada, under Anton Seidl, Walter Damrosch and Sousa form a chain of uninterrupted successes.

THE FIREMEN'S BALL.

Annual Ball at the Spaulding Last Evening a Great Success.

The firemen's annual ball given at the Spaulding last evening was a grand success. Between 400 and 500 people were on the floor at one time. Hoare's orchestra furnished the music and Fisher, as usual, prompted.

Only about twenty of the firemen were present, the remaining sixty or more, remaining on duty. Chief Black was present as also were a number of society people. The dancing began shortly after 9:30 o'clock and continued steadily until 2 o'clock this morning. Supper under the management of the Spaulding hotel was served in an elaborate and highly creditable manner in the ordinary between 11 and 12 o'clock. Nearly 400 tickets were sold and the net proceeds will be in the neighborhood of $200. The proceeds are for the establishment of a pension fund in connection with the Firemen's Relief association.

The fire ladders are much pleased with last night's success and the start made with the fund.

The committees did highly creditable work and a full measure of praise is due them. They were as follows: Arrangements: Capt. Charles Boyington, Thomas Connor, George Magdon and W. A. Smith. Reception: Capt. Henry Fevaz, Lieut. Thomas Meekin, John Quinby, Joseph Hixson and the Fishermen's club. Floor: Assistant Chiefs Jackson and Randall, Capt. Thomas Miller, Dan Narey, Capt. ing the club will meet with Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane on First street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenues west.

The sociable, last before Lent, given by the ladies of St. Luke's mission, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Swanson, Tuesday night, was very well attended. There was a musical and literary program. Supper was served and the entire affair was very sociable.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES

Curtis and Gleason Fight the Only Event of the Week—Curtis Preparing for Murray.

Annual Bonspiel of the St. Paul Curling Club Will Be Attended by Duluth Rinks.

Big Billiard Match Extending Over All of Next Week Between W. F. Hatley and Prof. Maggioni.

The week has been a quiet one in winter sports, and if it were not for a few events in other lines of sports it would be lifeless enough. The only professional event was the 16 round boxing contest between Tom Murray and George Curtis Monday night, which resulted in the referee's inability to make a decision.

The fight was a remarkably close one, and the referee's hesitancy in pronouncing between the men could not be blamed. Both men fought well, and a good deal of science was displayed by each. It is probable that if points were counted down to a line point a decision would have gone to Curtis, but the difference was not sufficiently marked to warrant a decision.

Curtis is preparing for his fight with Tom Murray at Grand Rapids in March, and the go is likely to be a good one.

Curtis has backers who will go up to Grand Rapids, prepared to bet Murray's friends to a standstill. Curtis has several other fights in prospect.

Next week the St. Paul Curling club will hold its annual bonspiel, beginning Monday, and lots of sport is expected. The principal event, and the one of most interest to Duluthians is the contest for the Merriam trophy, which was presented by ex-Governor W. R. Merriam, to be contested for annually by state clubs. A year ago R. J. MacLeod's rink won the trophy, which they now hold, and although a large number of Twin City and other rinks will enter the contest, it will not be allowed to slip away from Duluth without a struggle, and so far as an event of that kind may be guessed at, it is probable it will come back for another year's stay in Duluth.

It is always useless to attempt to say before the time of starting what players will attend, but at least two or three rinks will go down from Duluth, and possibly more. The cup defenders, Ron Smith, Harry Hurdon, Tom Gibson and R. J. MacLeod, will of course go. Who the others are is not definitely known.

Next week Duluth people interested in billiards will have an opportunity to witness a game between two well matched professionals. Maggioni, the New Orleans billiardist, has accepted W. F. Hatley's challenge for a match at Brook side, and he is expected to arrive in Duluth tomorrow. Monday the match will begin in the St. Louis billiard room, and it will continue through the week. The match will be for 5000 points, 300 of which will be played each afternoon and evening during the week, beginning at 3 and 8:30.

Hatley has played with Maggioni before and his title of champion of Illinois was gained by defeating him. The two men are quite evenly matched, and the game will be interesting. It will be the best professional play in Duluth for a number of years.

The final round of the bowling tournament at the Duluth club, which has narrowed down to George H. McEwan and Joseph Dodge, will be played off tonight.

The Duluth delegation to the Winnipeg bonspiel brought home not first prizes, but they played well and were given a royal time, so there are no complaints.

The Y. M. C. A. polo club defeated the Superior club last Monday by two goals to one, thus bringing the Y. M. C. A. boys up to the second notch again. The difference is made only by the number of goals, as each club has won and lost the same number of games. Following is the standing of the clubs, counting the protested game with the Duluth club.

The Zenith Polo club defeated Superior by a score of 3 to 0 yesterday afternoon, all three goals being scored in fifteen minutes. Lloyd played a rattling game at goal for the Zeniths, and made some excellent stops. A second game of twenty minutes resulted in a tie, each club getting one goal. Following was the lineup:

Zeniths.	Superior.
D. Kemp.....right rush.....J. Fraser	F. di Marco.....left rush.....J. Monro
H. Carroll.....right back.....D. Morrison	H. Barnham.....left back.....C. Rogers

The Duluth club, which has not played for several weeks, will meet the Superior club this week Tuesday at Superior and Thursday at Endion rink in Duluth.

Manager John D. Barnes, of Athletic Park, Minneapolis, has offered a prize to the Duluth Polo club who will play the Summits any Sunday at his place. The matter will be referred to the club, and a game may come of it. The Summits are playing good polo, and when the Twin City championship series fell through were tied with the Henriettas for first place.

There was only a small attendance at the Central Gun club shoot yesterday, but there was plenty of sport. Mr. Shell, who challenged any of those who were in attendance, shot a round of fifty singles with Mr. Moore, defeating him by a score of 30 to 25. One of the best scores of the day, 11 out of 15 at unknown angles, was made by a lady shooting under the name of Jones. Following are the scores:

Shoot No. 1, ten singles, known angles: McDonald, 8; Moore, L. McDonald, 7; Day, Mendenhall, Moor, K., 5; Jones, 4; Donchill, 2.

Shoot No. 2, fifteen singles, unknown angles: Jones, Day, 11; McDonald, 10; Moore, 7.

Shoot No. 3, twenty-five singles, unknown angles: Day, 18; Wojcik, 17; Mendenhall, 13; Jones, 12; Moor, K., 10; Warren, G.; McDonald, 6.

Shoot No. 4, ten singles, known angles: Shell, 8; Moore, G.; Haskins, 4; Mendenhall, 2.

There was a large attendance at the Y. M. C. A. penatiation last night and the affair was a very interesting one. Sydney McPhail made the best showing and received the gold medal for best average making 305. D. W. Paddock made 290 and received the silver medal.

Bartholemew made 201 and got the third prize. The first event, a vault, was won by McPhail, who vaulted 6 feet 0 1/2 inches. The running high jump was won by Paddock who jumped 5 feet. In the pole vault McPhail made 8 feet 1/2 inch, winning easily. Bartholemew made the best standing broad jump, 8 feet 0 1/2 inches. McPhail also won the running high and kick, clearing the bar at 8 feet 6 inches. George Whalley ran a mile in 5 minutes 8 seconds to establish a record for the Y. M. C. A. track.

The contests for the slate black boards at Glen Avon rink were begun yesterday afternoon and are being continued today. Following are the skips and scores of yesterday's games:

what a delightful affair it is. First you will be invited to drop 15 cents in the slot and climb aboard the train. Before you know where you are you will be dropped in Holland. How the ocean is crossed so suddenly will be explained upon application to the committee in charge.

Entering Holland you will find a very pretty girl dressed in a most charming Dutch costume. You will want to remain among the Dutch longer than you will be allowed to for "there are others coming also." Then you will be whirled on to Rome where a beautiful Italian girl will greet you. Next you will see Russia and a Russian maiden and so on until you have visited six countries. It will be the cheapest and most pleasant European trip you ever made and ten chances to one you will make it several times during the evening. Ice cream and cake will be served en route at modest prices. Those who have been fortunate enough to have journeyed abroad will miss one feature in making this trip—there will be no porters to tip.

There was only a small attendance at the Central Gun club shoot yesterday, but there was plenty of sport. Mr. Shell, who challenged any of those who were in attendance, shot a round of fifty singles with Mr. Moore, defeating him by a score of 39 to 28. One of the best scores of the day, 11 out of 15 at unknown angles, was made by a lady shoot under the name of Jones. Following are the scores:

Shoot No. 1, ten singles, known angles: McDonald, 8; Moore, 10; McDonald, 7; Day, Mendenhall, Moor, K., 5; Jones, 4; Donchill, 3.

The Keystone of the Arch.

In the edifice of health is vigor, which means not merely muscular energy, but an active discharge of the various functions of the body, such as digestion, secretion of the bile, the action of the bowels, the circulation of the blood. Nothing more actively and thoroughly contributes to the united performance of these functions than the renewed tonic and restorative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The result of its use is a speedy gain in strength, together with the agreeable consciousness that the tenure of life is being strengthened—that one is laying up a store of vitality against the inevitable drags which old age make upon the system. The fortifying influence of the Bitters constitutes it a reliable safeguard against indigestion, flatulency and kidney trouble. Appetite and sleep improve through its use, and it protects the system from the effects of cold and damp.

O. W. O. Hardman, sheriff of Tyler county, W. Va., appreciates a good thing and does not hesitate to say so. He was almost prostrated with a cold when he procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says: "It gave me prompt relief. I find it to be an invaluable remedy for coughs and colds." For sale by all druggists.

what a delightful affair it is. First you will be invited to drop 15 cents in the slot and climb aboard the train. Before you know where you are you will be dropped in Holland. How the ocean is crossed so suddenly will be explained upon application to the committee in charge.

Entering Holland you will find a very pretty girl dressed in a most charming Dutch costume. You will want to remain among the Dutch longer than you will be allowed to for "there are others coming also." Then you will be whirled on to Rome where a beautiful Italian girl will greet you. Next you will see Russia and a Russian maiden and so on until you have visited six countries. It will be the cheapest and most pleasant European trip you ever made and ten chances to one you will make it several times during the evening. Ice cream and cake will be served en route at modest prices. Those who have been fortunate enough to have journeyed abroad will miss one feature in making this trip—there will be no porters to tip.

TO SETTLE STRIKES.

During and for a short season follow-

I read very carefully the other day a symposium of articles published by one of the New York dailies. The title was "How to Settle Our Big Strike," and some of the contributors belong to the classes I name in the opening paragraph of this article. I cannot refer to all the contributions in that symposium nor extensively to any of them, but two or three must be noted to illustrate what I mean by the foregoing. Frederick R. Coudert, the millionaire lawyer, comes to the front with a "cure for the unrest" made up into doses and numbered from 1 to 7. He says capital should be prudent and not, flange its pride in labor's face, men should not be allowed to

"There is no period in a mother's life that brings more anxious care than when she sees her daughters, who are blossoming into womanhood, beginning to attract the attention of young men, and it becomes evident to the mother at least, that as simple friendly relations are fast developing into something stronger and more intimate, she must be prepared to see her anxiety to her daughters, or tell them what she sees this friendship tending, and thus influenced by the mother, to see that the friends which have constantly pressed them from earliest childhood, the daughters cannot fail to have gathered some ideas of the proper character of the friendship plainly and honestly shown in love. Even in the first days of womanhood, a young girl cannot fail to understand that marriage with a man of inferior qualities must be a miserable failure."

The Origin, Destiny and Existence of Man Discussed at Length by Lizzie Ducker Lyness.

Whence Came He, Whither is He Going and Why is He Upon This Earth?

Man's Sorrows Tend to Develop the Character Into Rounded Lines of Grace and Loveliness.

The thinking mind must ever find itself confronted with the stupendous questions —Whence? Whither? and Why? We turn with wondering gaze to the newborn infant with its perfectly formed body, who has come into our midst, a tiny stranger wholly dependent upon us for the care that will tend to develop that body and bring to perfection its embryo organs. We ask it: "Tell us, baby, from whence came you? In what kind of a country did you live? What did you do there? Why came you here and whither are you bound?"

But the only answer is a look of grave wonder in the great blue eyes which gaze steadily into our own.

We take within our little rose-leaf hands, and ask their tiny voice: "What are you going to do with these little hands out in the great battlefield of life?" And for answer the little fingers twine themselves lovingly and trustfully about our own, and we feel the little life twining itself tenderly about our heart strings.

We nestle the two tender little feet within one palm, and ask the fairy owner to what kind of a pathway they are going to tread, and why they came to this rough, rugged, little world to travel the untried path of life, and the only reply we receive is to feel the little pink toes curl timidly up like the delicate leaves of the sensitive plant, as if all too gentle were the caressing touch of the gentle hand that holds them, and we think with tender pity that in the days to come, these little feet will be weary travelling the rugged pathway that lies all untrod before them.

With an ache in our heart, we turn from the little stranger and direct our questioning gaze toward the strong form and thoughtful face of the brave-hearted man who fearlessly walks with unflingling feet the pathway of right, undeterred by the difficulties that present themselves, and ask him from whence he came, whither he is going and why he is here.

A look of sadness dims his eye as he answers: "The world calls me a philosopher, but I have never found the answer to your question, though I have questioned the skilled physician whose kindly services are requested, at birth and death, though I have questioned the scientist who weighs and measures and wrests from nature her greatest secrets, though I have inquired of the chemist whose glowing experiments and follows them in their changes from solids to gases and back again, Alas! None of them can answer my questioning heart."

We turn faint and weary to the grand realm of nature and question its throbbing heart. Rugged mountain, snow-capped peak, bustling city, towering summit, overhanging cliff, mountain gorge, yawning abyss, rocky canyon, wood-crowned hill and peaceful valley stretch away in panorama before us, before our wondering vision, but they utter no word. The boisterous sea with rolling and swelling and tumult tosses high its cresting billows and answers us not.

We lift up our eyes to the blue vault of Heaven, and gazing into its mysterious star-strewn depths, with fearful voice we ask again the unanswered question: "Why silvery moon sheds its pearly light over land and sea, feathery cloudlets sail peacefully about in the calm air, while the glimmering stars with their cold gaze, gaze coldly, calmly down on our upturned face, and no voice replies."

With throbbing brain and unbearable heartache, we cry out in question: "Because, silent dead, "Whither, Oh, whither have you gone beloved? What strange white mantle of solitude has fallen upon you?" But the fringed lids lie quietly over the eyes that shone with the tender light of love, the lips are cold and silent, the white hands are peacefully folded above the breast, the willing feet that have moved on errands of kindness, have lost their power of motion, a strange peace has descended down over the rigid form, and though we call in tender tones the name of our loved one, though we implore, he hears no sound, and tender love for him, to answer us just one single word, no sound breaks from those sealed lips, and in unutterable anguish we turn from the tragically peaceful form, and out into the quiet calm of the night, we carry our tired brain and burning heart, and flinging ourselves down in an utter abandon
of grief, we cry out in bitterness of spirit
"Whither? Whence? and Why?"

The soothing voice of the night wind whispers a song of peace to our ears, while down on the pebbly beach the low gentle murmur of the waves makes music so sweet that a boy calm settles down over our aching heart, and a sweet feeling of rest steals over our throbbing nerves and aching brow, and quietly, calmly we turn our questioning gaze inward, and ask—"Canst thou answer O my soul the questions I fain would ask of thee? Be still my soul and listen to the voice of wisdom that speaks to thy innermost being?"—and to an answer of peace is given—

"Where didst thou come from O child of earth? Thou didst always exist, for thou art a part of infinity, a portion of the infinite Spirit, a part of Him thou
callest God."

"Whither art thou going? Back again to Him for He is thy home. He is not perfect, God with thee, art wandering so far from Him, and that is the reason of thy restless longings and higher aspirations. Break the bonds that hold thee in prison. Unshackle thyself for thou art an heir of heaven. All that thou callest God is thine, there is nothing in all the universe that does not belong to thee, thou wilt only unfold thy wings,
and use thy latent powers, for there is within thee, the undeveloped power of a God."

"Why art thou here? Because in a life of unfoldment is perfected strength; because more wisdom and power will be thine, when thou hast traveled the road of progress, for strength of character is developed by patient labor; obstructions, removals, difficulties overcome and obstacles surmounted give thee spiritual power thou couldst not otherwise attain,
and thou wilt mount to higher heights of wisdom and strength because of this life of darkness and doubt and battle than thou couldst ever reach if thou hadst not descended to this low level and climbed step by step painfully and slow, the steep mountain side of progress; but thou art not alone in thy perilous journey, even as thou dost lead gently and lovingly thy little child so is the omnipotent right arm of the loving Father stretched graciously down to thee, and if thou wilt but trust thyself to His loving care and lean upon His strength, He will bear thee safely over the rough places in thy thorny pathway, and if thou wilt attune thyself to His perfect laws, thou wilt hear the voices of His messengers whispering lovingly to thy innermost senses, kindly words of cheer and help—and even as the words were uttered a strangely beautiful sound of celestial music broke upon our enraptured ears, thrilling our entire being with its heavenly harmony, and as the strains ended, the spell that held us was broken and we raised our wondering eyes, and lo, a band of angels with shining hair and glistening robes of silver shen surrounded us, from their beautifully perfect forms a radiant light emanated, and one more brightly beautiful than the rest, stepped up close beside us, and spoke in a voice whose dulcet sweetness lingers yet in our ears:

"We come from the realms of light

eyes, and lo, a band of angels with shining hair and glistening robes of silver
shen surrounded us, from their beautifully perfect forms a radiant light emanated,
and one more brightly beautiful
than the rest, stepped up close beside
us, and spoke in a voice whose dulcet
sweetness lingers yet in our ears:

"We come from the realms of light and brightness, from the land of endless day, down to you, O inhabitants of the earth plane, dwelling in the mists and darkness, shrouded in clouds and darkness, where bats fly at midnight, where hissing serpents crawl amid the brake, where savage beasts lurk in the shadows to grasp the unwary traveller, where huge birds of prey with talons and beak rend the quivering flesh of their victims, where discord and disharmony are felt on every side, where doubt and darkness reign, where in a gloomy and dreary edness abound, where pleading, hungry poverty and haughty abundance walk side by side, where cruel oppression, where pain and war and woe hold high revelry, where cruel sickness feeds upon the blushing cheek of health, and starts its venereal fangs into the glowing heart and buoyant life of youth and loveliness, where pale, cold death with noiseless footsteps, steals in with quiet treachery and ruthless hand seizes and carries from your stricken vision to its own grim abode your dearest treasures."

"But we bring you a message of love and cheer. Your dear dead are not lost for aye; they live in a more perfect form; there is no more pain where they have gone; they are rapidly hastening toward their labors on your earth; a life has opened up before them of transcendent beauty and power, and the patient O child of earth. These sorrows that are yours but tend to develop your character into rounded lines of grace and loveliness; and lo, ye are going with firm, calm trust in the loving Father who is all-wise and all-powerful, and whose blissful day is yours as surely as the light of love, the lips are cold and silent, the white hands are peacefully
folded above the breast, the
willing feet that have moved on errands
of kindness, have lost their power of
down over the rigid form, and though
we call in tender tones the name of our loved one, though we implore, he hears
no sound, and tender love for him, to answer us just one single word, no sound breaks from those sealed lips, and in unutterable anguish we turn from the
tragically peaceful form, and out into the
quiet calm of the night, we carry our
tired brain and burning heart, and flinging ourselves down in an utter abandon
of grief, we cry out in bitterness of spirit
"Whither? Whence? and Why?"

The soothing voice of the night wind whispers a song of peace to our ears,
while down on the pebbly beach the
low gentle murmur of the waves makes
music so sweet that a boy calm settles
down over our aching heart, and a sweet
feeling of rest steals over our throbbing
nerves and aching brow, and quietly, calmly we turn our questioning gaze inward, and ask—"Canst thou answer O my soul the questions I fain would ask
of thee? Be still my soul and listen to the voice of wisdom that speaks to thy innermost being?"—and to an answer of
peace is given—

"Where didst thou come from O child
of earth? Thou didst always exist, for thou art a part of infinity, a portion of the infinite Spirit, a part of Him thou
callest God."

"Whither art thou going? Back again to Him for He is thy home. He is not perfect, God with thee, art wandering
so far from Him, and that is the reason of thy restless longings and higher aspirations. Break the bonds that hold thee in prison. Unshackle thyself for thou art an heir of heaven. All that thou callest God is thine, there is nothing in all the
universe that does not belong to thee,
thou wilt only unfold thy wings,
and use thy latent powers, for there is within thee, the undeveloped power of a God."

"Why art thou here? Because in a life of unfoldment is perfected strength; because more wisdom and power will be thine, when thou hast traveled the road
of progress, for strength of character is developed by patient labor; obstructions, removals, difficulties overcome and obstacles surmounted give thee spiritual
power thou couldst not otherwise attain,
and thou wilt mount to higher heights of
wisdom and strength because of this life
of darkness and doubt and battle than
thou couldst ever reach if thou hadst not
descended to this low level and climbed step by step painfully and slow, the
steep mountain side of progress; but
thou art not alone in thy perilous journey, even as thou dost lead gently and
lovingly thy little child so is the omnipotent right arm of the loving Father stretched graciously down to thee, and if thou wilt but trust thyself to His loving care and lean upon His strength, He
will bear thee safely over the
rough places in thy thorny pathway, and if thou wilt attune thyself to His perfect laws, thou wilt hear the voices of His messengers whispering lovingly to thy innermost senses, kindly words of cheer
and help—and even as the words were uttered a strangely beautiful sound of celestial music broke upon our enraptured
ears, thrilling our entire being
with its heavenly harmony, and as the
strains ended, the spell that held us was broken and we raised our wondering
eyes, and lo, a band of angels with shining hair and glistening robes of silver
shen surrounded us, from their beautifully perfect forms a radiant light emanated,
and one more brightly beautiful

The Test Which a Great Modern War Vessel Undergoes Described by William Floyd Sicard.

Article by Mr. Gladstone on "The Lord's Day" to Appear in McClure's For March.

Capt. Charles King's Novel, "A Tame Surrender," Appears in the March Issue of Lippincott's.

An American flavor pervades the March number of Harper's Magazine, which opens with an article on "Ex-Hunting in the United States," by Caspar W. Whitner. "The Trial Trip of a Crusader," by William Floyd Sicard, describes the test which a great modern war-vessel undergoes at the hands of its builders. The industrial region of Northern Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia is popularly treated by Julian Ralph in a profusely illustrated article.

Royal Cortisio, in a plea for an American academy at Rome, questions the final authority of France in art, and advocates the training of painters of all schools amid Italian traditions. Laurence Hutton, in "The Literary Landmarks of Jerusalem," depicts the features of the modern city most interesting to the artist. The "Second Missouri War," by Miss Geraldine Bonner, deals with certain characteristic phases of social life in San Francisco. "The Compromise," Owen Wister relates an amusing bit of Idaho history. The story is illustrated by Frederic Remington.
"The Little Day," by Miss Sarah Orne Jewett, and is illustrated by W. T.
Smedley. The poems of this number are by Marion Wilcox, W. D. Howells, and others. "The Editor's Study," discusses systematic education in the United States.

"The Degradation of Geoffrey Alwitt," a new novel by Morley Roberts, is published by Charles H. Serrell company, simultaneously with the English edition.
Mr. Roberts' former works, "The Mate of the Vancouver," and "Kioia," published by Ballantine, have made him favorably known to American readers.

Mr. Gladstone has just written an article on "The Lord's Day," wherein he considers, with the fervor of conviction and the breadth of learning for which he is famous, the grounds for keeping as the Christian Sabbath the first instead of the seventh day of the week, and the proper measure and spirit of Christian Sabbath observance. The article will appear in McClure Magazine for March, along with a series of short studies covering a period of eighty years and showing him at every important epoch of his life.

The complete novel in the March issue of Lippincott's is "A Tame Surrender," by Capt. Charles King. Departing from this author's usual field, the purely military, it deals with the romantic life of a young man, and the loves of a United States lieutenant and a high-minded young lady.
Capt. King, who is rapidly becoming known as a writer, gives the tale its title.
The other stories, all very short, are "Fulfillment," by Elizabeth Knowlton Carter, "The Story of the Gravel," by Margaret B. Yeates, and "One of the Wanted," by B. B. Bates.

George J. Varney, of the Chicago tribune, writes "An Open Letter" to Professor Charles G. D. Roberts and Richard B. Sewall.

"An Evening at the Century Club," is the subject of a painting by C. Y. Turner which is reproduced in a double-page illustration in Harper's Weekly for February 16. The interest of the painting is enhanced by portraits of members of the club. W. J. Henderson contributes to the same number of the weekly an attractive paper on the French and Italian opera season just closing—the illustration being taken from drawings by Thulstrup.

Dr. Parkhurst's first article to women in the Ladies' Home Journal has proved so popular that the entire page devoted to the February issue of the magazine was exhausted within ten days, and a second edition of 45,000 copies has been printed.

Few books in the last decade have had as great a sale as that famous anti-slavery novel, "Driven From Sea to Sea," by C. C. Post, of which the fifty-fifth edition is just issuing from the press of Charles H. Serrell company.

Right new "Old South Leaflets" have just been added to the series published by the directors of the "Old South Studies in History," in Boston. These new leaflets are reprints of documents relating to early New England history, as follows: "Bradford's Memoir of Elder Brewster," Bradford's "First Dialogue with the Indians," "Conclusions for the Plantation in New England," "New England's First Fruits," 1639, John Eliot's "Indian

Grammar Begun," John Cotton's "God's Promise to the Plantation," from Town Roger Williams to Winthrop, and Thomas Hooker's "Way of the Churches of New England."

It is a most welcome addition to the series in which so many valuable original documents, otherwise hard to obtain, are now furnished at the cost of a new cent. The "Old South Leaflets" are rendering our historical students and all of our people a great service. The numbers of the eight new leaflets, interesting them as how large and important the collection has already become.

Macmillan & Co. are publishing a complete translation of the Fata Morgana or "Buddha Birth Stories," which are supposed to be the oldest collection of folklore stories in existence. They will be translated from the Pali, under the superintendence of Professor E. B.
Cowell and will be published in seven or eight volumes. The first volume translates the "Birth of the Buddha," is now ready, while the second, by W. H. D.
Rouse, and third, by H. T. Francis and R. A. Neil, are in active preparation.

Harper's Young People for Feb. 12 contains a delightful article on Philip Exeter academy. The author is William H. Rand, Jr., an old Exonian. This is the fourth article in a series entitled "Typical American Schools," appearing in the Young People.

The title of David Christie Murray's latest novelette, which leads off the March volume of "Talks from Town Topics," is old enough to seduce anyone into reading it. "Why? Says Gladys" is a phrase that ought to arouse general interest, and so it does. The story is personal. The story proves on examination to be a decidedly gay and fascinating bit of literature, presented in a most attractive and readable form, with the great and everlasting questions of love and matrimony. It is a bright and engaging sketch on a delightful subject, and it is a pleasure to find the volume devoted to the customary collection of the especially clever stories, sketches, poems and vignettes that have appeared in Town Topics in years past. Town Topics Publishing company, 268 Fifth Avenue, New York city.

Post-lore celebrates the second number of its seven-year with a new cover.
To spell out and place the poets and dramatists whose names are interwoven in this new design of laurel and thorn is in itself a poetic study, and therefore most suitable to the magazine. For Post-lore takes for its province the noble and uplifting virtues of every age and race and seeks to make them known and appreciated. "We continue to do this," says a recent critic, "an original and exceptional method of treating literary subjects, which differs from the magazine from all its competitors in the periodical field." Its "School of Literature" has been most valuable in showing how appreciative of our own American masterpieces and its new studying a series of poems illustrative of American history. Whittier's "The Norwegian" is considered in the February number. Other topics are "The Religion of Robert Burns," "The Friendship of Whitman and Emerson," Will and Fate in Shakespeare," "When?" New Play, etc., etc. $3.50 a year, 25 cents each.
Post-lore company, 150 Summer Street, Boston.

"The Willow Garland," a short story by E. J. McClure, is one of the most delightful features in Harper's Bazar for Feb. 16. An out-door costume from Paris, a bride's gown and bridesmaid dress, a series of short studies described by the editor, are also noteworthy.

Rheumatism is primarily caused by acidity of the blood. Hood's sarsaparilla

HAYWARD'S SAY

The Defendant in the Murder Trial at Minneapolis Was on the Stand Again Today.

Narrative Resumed at the Point Where He Returned to the Ozark from the Theater.

He Described His Experience in the "Sweat Box" and How the Detectives Questioned Him.

Flutter of Excitement Caused by an Insinuation That Adry Was Connected With the Crime.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 25.—Harry Hayward, the defendant in the murder trial, resumed the stand at the opening of the court this morning. He had evidently been cautioned by Mr. Erwin not to be too prolix in his evidence and showed a disposition to condense his testimony. His narrative was resumed at the point where he returned to the Ozark after the theater and first heard the news that there had been an accident. He had difficulty in persuading Gossman, the liveryman, who was telephoning about it to police headquarters, who was killed. He thought it was Miss Gine or Miss Ireland and when finally he learned that it was Miss Gine he became very much excited.

"I thought of all our relations," he said, "and how I had lent her money. I remembered that she had often asked me to lend her my revolver, and as I thought the matter over I became convinced that she had been murdered. I don't know what I said to the people there or at the police station. I'd rather you'd take their story for what, as it is probably true. But I was very much excited. I told the officers that she had on a blue dress skirt and not a black one, because I knew it must be so. There are about sixty days in October and November. During those sixty days I had probably seen her ninety times and I am sure that I had seen her all times there were eighty-seven when she had on a shirt waist and a blue skirt. That was why I spoke as I did."

This testimony is a fair sample of the prolix explanations to which the defendant seems prone. Mr. Erwin then asked him to describe his experience in the "sweat box" and despite Mr. Nye's objections he was allowed to do so. He said he went down the morning after the murder and was met by a detective, who asked him to go to the chief's office. He did so and was there under a constant fire of questions all day. He would tell his questioners a lot of things, they would go out and find them all true and a fresh squad of inquisitors would take their places.

Hayward described how he was taken to the morgue and shown the dead body with everybody watching him. He didn't know what he did, but said he felt very bad and knew everyone there was sure he was guilty. He went to Miss Ireland and offered to do anything about the funeral he could. He ordered some roses from a florist and attended the funeral. On Thursday he and Adry were arrested and put into a cell together. Adry seemed very down in the mouth and Harry had said to him, "Did you have anything to do with this?" Adry was silent and refused to talk any more. After that there was no further conversation between them.

This evidence caused a flutter of excitement. It brought in the story, which on Thursday had been ruled out by the court, to the effect that Adry was the masked highwayman who last April had held up and robbed Harry, Miss Gine and Miss Vedder while they were out riding. The fact that the charge was thus brought before the jury this morning will probably lead to a ventilation of the whole episode. Adry is understood, will go on the stand and deny the story with an alibi.

Mr. Erwin next read the incriminating evidence of Blixt to the defendant with reading. The fact that the charge was thus brought before the jury this morning will probably lead to a ventilation of the whole episode. Adry is understood, will go on the stand and deny the story with an alibi.

With a careless laugh, Harry Hayward denied the oft repeated charges of Blixt and drew from his explicit denials of the charges made by Blixt. The same course was followed with Adry's testimony, and this took a great deal of time. It is not expected the cross-examination can be reached until tomorrow.

With a careless laugh, Harry Hayward denied the oft repeated charges of Blixt and drew from his explicit denials of the charges made by Blixt. The same course was followed with Adry's testimony, and this took a great deal of time. It is not expected the cross-examination can be reached until tomorrow.

In the course of his testimony Harry said: "My brother Adry is a victim of that green-eyed monster, jealousy. His jealousy of me amounts to a mania. Why, if my father wanted to lend me $50 he dare not do it while Adry was in the room for fear of the scene that would ensue."

from Adry's corner, and those planning that way discovered the elder of this brotherly pair in convulsions of glee. Harry Hayward saw the ridicule his story was receiving and he became enraged. It did not show in any perceptible raising of his voice, but in a marked contraction of the muscles about his eyes, and in the broad glint of his white teeth.

The witness was going on to describe Adry's repeated threats to kill his father, when the court interfered and instructed him to refer only to actual scenes between him and Adry.

EXPULSED FOR HERESY.

A Professor and Student Expelled From a Baptist Church.

BERKELEY, Cal., Feb. 25.—The expulsion of Professor Charles Woodworth and Student Maxwell from the First Baptist church for heresy-creating much contention in this university town. The charges against Woodworth were that he had stated in writing that the Bible contained many errors of history and geology and that "the Trinity is only three of the many manifestations of God." Woodworth maintains that Christ was born of two human parents. The professor had also said that "the death of Jesus like the Jewish sacrifices only saves symbolically," and "that the fall of man was not from true holiness, but from childish innocence." The latter statement involved the question of evolution, to which Woodworth firmly adheres as a good method of reasoning both for science and for Christianity.

Some of the members of the church arraigned against Professor Woodworth say that they will take the matter before the academic senate and the board of regents of the university, arguing that a man is unfit, because of his heresies, to teach at Sunday school. The bill for election of railroad commissioners was sent to elections committee.

FOR NEW LAWS

Another Batch of Bills Was Introduced at the Reopening of the Legislature This Morning.

There Was an Animated Debate on the Bill to Create a State Mineral Land Agent.

Supreme Court Reversed the Jury's Findings in a Damage Suit Against the St. Paul & Duluth.

Sam Fullerton Appointed Today on the State Game and Fish Commission to Succeed Andrus.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 25.—After a number of petitions, Chairman Staples, from the public lands committee, reported H. F. 82, for fencing swamp lands granted to a branch line of the Minneapolis & St. Cloud railway, to pass. Chairman Robbins, of appropriations committee, reported H. F. 365, appropriating money for state daymen's association, to pass. Chairman Ferris reported the senate sleeping car tax bill, recommending it to go to the judiciary. The bill for election of railroad commissioners was sent to elections committee.

S. F. 136, AMENDING MILITARY CODE.

Mr. Robbins introduced a resolution making Feb. 25 the limit for the introduction of appropriation bills from the internal improvement funds. The following bills were introduced:

Mr. Grondahl, giving preference to veteran soldiers or sailors in public employment. Judiciary.

Mr. Martin to prevent oppressive garnishment and transferring of claims for purposes of defrauding. Railroads.

Mr. Johns, to amend municipal laws and compel payment of judgments against cities. Municipal legislation.

Mr. Damp, to legalize issue of certain certificates relating to foreclosure of mortgages. Judiciary.

Mr. Johns, to amend general laws 1885 relating to telephone companies, covering "mental sufficiency" in damages. Judiciary.

Mr. Matheson, to preserve public health by requiring dealers to wash vessels carrying cans or bottles of milk or cream. Public health.

Mr. Parker, by request, to amend the probate code. Judiciary.

Mr. Grondahl, authorizing special assessments in cities having more than 25,000 inhabitants. Municipal legislation.

The house then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Jacobson presiding, and took up the following bills:

Mr. F. 1, to amend military code; S. F. 136, amending township laws to build fences to prevent spread of Russian thistle; S. F. 157, making terms of county auditors and treasurers end at the same time; S. F. 162, relating to foreclosed mortgages, and H. F. 120, regulating child labor.

Mr. Warner explained his state mineral land agent bill, saying it had been handed him by an ex-state official. The mining interest was one of the most important in the state and the future income from it would be larger than from almost any other source. Much was being lost by not carefully looking after all such matters. Such an inspector was needed to look after the state's interest, for owners in fee who leased adjoining lands would hand one from both mines as if their own property and the state was the loser. He had been told that the loss to the state was $5,000, a discrepancy in collecting $10,000 in 1893 and 1894, and believed the report reliable. He thought the necessary appropriation might be some opposition but he thought the expense would be more than returned in the amount saved.

Mr. Feig followed with an energetic speech in support of the bill in some form.

Mr. Robbins opposed the bill, insisting it was an unnecessary multiplying of public officials. He thought the state auditor had been elected to look after such work.

Mr. Staple was a little doubtful about the merits of the bill, but was positive that the product of these mines should be looked after. There was no present law to cover the law. He had reliable information showing that at least some of the mining companies had been returning false reports of their ore output from the state lands. He thought there should be either such an inspector as this bill provided, or else provide for such inspection through the state land commissioner. He moved to amend by limiting the employment of an assistant to such time as the governor may think necessary.

The amendment was adopted. An added provision for a bond of $500 for proper carrying out of the duties of such mineral land commissioner, was also adopted.

Mr. Gibbs was in favor of the bill but wanted more time, and therefore moved that progress be reported and the bill be taken up again later when fuller discussion would be possible. Mr. Warner was agreed to that, but gave notice that he thought the state auditor had now as much work as he could handle, and he was opposed to that proposed amendment.

The motion to report progress and ask leave to sit again was adopted, and the committee rose and reported.

Gov. Clough sent a communication that he had approved H. F. 148, prohibiting the sale of liquors on or within one mile of the state fair grounds. A recess was then taken until 2 o'clock.

SUPREME COURT DECREES.

Findings of the Jury in a Damage Suit Reversed.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 25.—The supreme court this morning handed down six decisions, four of which were by Judge Buck and two by Judge Collins. A most important one is that of Charles L. Smith, appellant, vs. the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad company, respondent, in which the decision of the lower court, or rather the findings of the jury, are reversed.

Smith was an engineer employed by the St. Paul & Duluth road, and had brought suit for damages against the company, alleging that he had been injured by a defective lever on the engine. In consideration of his releasing all claims for damages the company agreed to give him employment as long as he was able to discharge the duties of an engineer.

He ran a passenger engine between St. Paul and Duluth for a long time, but was finally discharged for alleged drunkenness. He then brought suit against the company for breach of contract.

The company fought the case on two grounds, the first being that the contract was not violated, because it was not mutual, in that it did not bind Smith to serve as well as the company to give him employment. The second was that his drinking disabled him from a proper performance of his duties. The jury in the lower court found in favor of Smith, on the ground that the evidence did not sustain the charges to drinking to excess.

The supreme court says that it is with reluctance that the findings of fact by a jury are interfered, but that justice sometimes demands it, and it finds that the company was justified in discharging Smith. On one point, however, the court finds against the company, holding that in releasing his claim for damages, Smith paid in advance for the privilege of working for the company as long as he was able and desired to do so, and that the company was bound to furnish him the opportunity. Smith forfeited this privilege by drinking. Other decisions were as follows:

Louis Frederickson, respondent, vs. Albert Johnson, appellant. The verdict of the jury in behalf of plaintiff for the sum of $500 held excessive, and that a new trial should be granted unless the plaintiff consents to remit all of the same in excess of $300. Buck, J.

Elizabeth Pfeiffer and Richard Pfeiffer, her husband, respondents, vs. Christian Welland, defendant, appellant. Judgment affirmed. Buck, J.

Gaur, Scott & Co., a corporation, appellant, vs. Edward Fritz and Adam Fritz, respondents. Order affirmed. Buck, J.

William H. Seton, appellant, vs. William E. Steele et al, defendants, William E. Steele, respondent. Order reversed. Collins, J.

D. S. Hardin, C. D. Hardin and John D. K. Smith, etc., surviving partners, appellants, vs. Alexander Jamison, respondent. Order reversed. Buck, J.

BIG FIGHT WITH NATIVES.

The British Expedition on the Guinea Coast in Africa Had a Battle With Natives.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Admiral received here from Rear Admiral Bedford, in command of the Cape of Good Hope and West Africa station, who has been co-operating with the land forces of the British expedition on the Brass river, Guinea coast, confirms the report of severe fighting in that locality. The admiral adds that Lieut. Taylor of the royal navy and two men were killed and five men were wounded during the engagement.

The first advances from the Brass river were received yesterday at Plymouth by the word of an officer who is a member of the British force. Her husband telegraphed that a big fight had occurred with the natives. A later dispatch stated that Maj. Sir Claude M. MacDonald, the British commissioner at Brass, and the officer commanding the expedition were severely wounded. The natives, who were said to be armed with Maxim and Gatling rapid fire guns, were repulsed.

According to details of the engagement received here today the British advanced up the Brass river on Feb. 23, and the same day they captured several rebel strongholds and destroyed a number of war canoes. Many of the natives were killed and the main body of the natives retreated into the interior.

On the following day the British advanced further inland and after some sharp fighting captured and burned the town of Nimbi. The natives, who lost heavily, fled from Nimbi to the town of Bassouva. They were followed by the British who shelled the last named town but did not proceed any further inland.

Sir Claude M. MacDonald, who personally directed the operations, then sent an ultimatum to the rebels notifying them that unless they surrendered and gave up the prisoners which they had captured at Akassa a month ago, and restored the booty which they had obtained at that place, a further attack would be made upon them.

Winter Navigation.

The maintenance of navigation of the great lakes during the winter months is an old subject. It has been frequently discussed, but so far no steps have been taken to demonstrate its feasibility.Capt. C. S. Barker has been talking to a Superior reporter about the matter and declares that one ice crusher like the boat operating at Mackinac straits would keep all Lake Superior open, and he is probably correct. It is to be feared, however, that greater difficulty would be experienced with the ice at the Sault canal and adjoining waters. It is a matter of the utmost importance. With the waterway kept clear of ice, navigation of the great lakes during the winter months should not be more dangerous than navigation of the Atlantic ocean during the same period.The St. Paul Pioneer Press yesterday referred to this subject editorially as follows: "The feasibility of winter navigation of the great lakes should be investigated. Of course we do not mean the trading from intermediate points, but the maintenance of through traffic between Duluth and Buffalo. It is asserted that a stout ice-crushing boat would keep a harbor and approaches open sufficiently to admit the passage of vessels. The trip up and down the lakes would not be any more severe, for the great freight steamers, than that across the Atlantic; and the ocean lines do not think of discontinuing their business when winter sets in. The advantage to commerce would be very great. Shippers are familiar with the difference between summer and winter freight rates; a difference which measures the effect of lake competition. If this competition could be maintained to a big saving, and the through freighters could make a nice profit out of the trips of the winter season, when the scramble for cargoes would be less lively. The scheme may not be practicable, although some who are familiar with the subject declare stoutly that it is.
Its bearing on the interests of the Northwest is at least important enough to make it worth looking into carefully."The Chicago shippers are now agitating the subject and will probably enter upon the scheme next winter. It is hardly likely that congress will grant a yearly appropriation for keeping the lake route open in winter, and it would be necessary for each port to maintain its own ice crusher, the expense of which would be very small compared to the great benefits. A congressional appropriation would be necessary, however, for the purpose of keeping the ice out of the Sault canal, Hay Lake channel and connecting waters.

One Deadlock Broken.

The result of the senatorial election in Oregon will be regretted by every friend of honest money. Senator Dolph was defeated because he has been a consistent opponent of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, expressing himself on this question without reserve and voting according to his convictions.A majority of the members of the legislature were free silver men and were determined to prevent Mr. Dolph's re-election and send to Washington a member who has been secretary of the state of Oregon for some time, will be found voting with the silverites in the senate. The deadlock in the legislature continued a long time, Mr. Dolph having had for some days within one vote of the necessary number. It was feared for atime that the legislative term would expire without an election, thus making a vacancy in the senate of the next congress. That calamity has been avoided by the election of Mr. McBride.Senatorial deadlocks still continue in Idaho and Delaware. The legislatures of both states are Republican. For five weeks there has been a close fight in Idaho between Senator Shoup and Representative Sweet. The Populists apparently hold the balance of power, and will probably decide the contest before the legislature adjourns. The prospects of the deadlock in Delaware being broken are not so bright. Senator Higgins is a candidate for re-election, and there are two other Republican candidates, the strongest being a millionaire named Addicks, whose strength rests solely in his wealth which he utilized in the legislative districts last fall to secure the election of members favorable to his candidacy. Senator Higgins is an able man and his record in the senate is good. It is possible that the deadlock will remain unbroken and that Delaware will have only one senator in the next congress. Even this would be preferable to the election of a man like Addicks.Upon the election of Republican senators in Idaho and Delaware depends the political control of the next senate.
Should two Republicans be elected by those states, the Republicans in the senate would number forty-three, or two less than a majority, but it is expected that two Populist senators will vote with the Republicans to control the organization. The Democrats will number thirty-eight. The importance of ending the deadlocks in these two states can therefore be readily understood.Such deadlocks add strength to the growing popular demand that United States senators shall be elected by the direct vote of the people. This would put an end to the legislative deadlocks and much of the corruption which now attends such contests, and would prevent the possibility of a state being unrepresented in the United States senate by the failure of the legislature to elect.

Revival of Confidence.

In his financial reviews, dated on Saturday last, Henry Clews says that Wall street is fairly taken by surprise at the stupendous success attending the syndicate's negotiation of the new treasury loan. Two weeks ago, all was in the gloom of utter uncertainty as to whether the treasury could be kept afloat, or it must sink from lack of rescue. Now the status of the public credit is elevated before the world by bids for ten times the amount of bonds offered, and by the fact that the major part of the subscription is made in Europe. The fact is as remarkable for its revelation of the large amount of capital seeking employment as it is for its evidence of the still high standing of our national credit.There can be no second opinion, Mr.
Clews asserts, as to what all this portends. He takes it that the events of the past week will strike the keynote for a revival of confidence the world over, and for a general recovery of business that has been held in suspense for the last three years. The business world may expect to witness, at an early day, the effects of the marshalling of men of capital for promoting a lively speculative campaign.The immense subscription in London to the current bond loan is an evidence that foreigners have a higher estimation of the intrinsic worth of United States government bonds than we have in this country. The signal success in floating this loan cannot fail to lead the way to a revival of confidence in American railroad securities which are now down to prices that should make them look inviting for speculative ventures at least.There are many other features of an encouraging character connected with the situation, and it would certainly appear from all present indications that better times are at hand. Let us hope that Mr. Clews' hopes are well founded and that his prediction will be realized.With a general revival such as he predicts, Duluth cannot fail to be favorably affected to a greater degree than most of the other cities.The New York Tribune takes a patriotic stand with regard to the one-tenth differential. It begins by remarking that it was a blunder, and then goes on to say:
"It has been resented by the best countries, which do not understand why they should be punished by the United States for developing their own agricultural industries. It has exposed American exporters to the restoration of prohibitions against pork on sanitary grounds, and may involve a disastrous tariff war from which our farming classes will have nothing to gain and much to lose. For Republican senators to refuse to take up the house bill for the removal of the differential under these circumstances would be an abuse of partisanship."Referring to a report that the Duluth grand jury will investigate the recent failure of the bank of Mountain Iron, the Minneapolis Journal says: "The investigation is largely due to publication of facts in the Journal." This is the quintessence of gall. Probably not more than a dozen people in Duluth knew the journal published any facts about the failure. Furthermore all that the Journal did publish was copied from the Mountain Iron Manitowish and printed several days after that paper was issued as a "special dispatch to the Journal."

advise you to come early if you intend to make a selection, as the best are always selected first, but there are no poor ones amongst the lot. If you were to get the last piece left, you would get elegant value for your money.

Carlton County Vidette: There is not, in the county, nor for that matter, in the state a more consistent and earnest advocate of good roads than C. L. Goodell, of Baraboo. Charley believes, as does every man who has given the matter any a contemporary in Babylon of the As-

John Stone lardies delivered an interesting and profound lecture at the Unitarian church last evening on "Industrial Cooperation." The question was discussed broadly and from many standpoints and in a manner which showed the speaker's careful study and appreciation of the subject.

Partially worn clothes, particularly men's trousers, are much needed by the Ladies Relief society. Bundles sent to rooms 3 and 4, Torrey building, on Monday afternoon will be thankfully received.
Mrs. S. M. D. Fry, state president of the W. C. T. U., will lecture at Lester Park M. E. church tonight.

Levine Bros. have taken out a permit for the erection of a store building on the north side of Superior street between Third and Fourth avenues east, to cost $3000. Another permit has been issued to W. E. Terry for the erection of a 1-story frame dwelling on Maple street, near Quince street, at a cost of $552.

Want an Eight-Oared Crew.

The Duluth Boat club is anxious to have an 8-oared crew this year and has the material but lacks the shell. To get one would cost from $500 to $600 and the club does not feel that it can purchase one at present. It is possible that the amount can be raised among the business men. An exceptionally strong crew was gathered together. St. Paul claims the best eight in the Northwest and the Duluth men think that they can give the Minnesotans a hard rub if they get in shape to do it.

Imperial Starts Up.

The Imperial mill started up this morning after being shut down since December. It will run two weeks and perhaps longer. Manager B. C. Church returned yesterday from the South.

As an Investment.

Duluth Building and Loan association has paid better than any loan association in the Northwest.

MANDELERT IS FREE

Indictment Against Him for Having Butterine in His Possession Was Quashed by Judge Moor.

New Light Thrown on the Death of Christian Lund Whom Reno is Accused of Murdering.

Cases Against George A. Elder Were Continued Until Next Term on Motion of Defendant's Attorney.

The court rooms with the exception of that under Judge Moor's direction, presented rather a quiet appearance this morning, but considerable work was done in a quiet way. The demurrer of Charles Mandelert, the West Duluth grocer, to an indictment charging him with keeping for sale adulterated dairy products, was argued before Judge Ensign and was promptly sustained. The indictment was quashed and the matter remanded to the next grand jury.

The grounds on which the demurrer was made and sustained were that the indictment did not state a public offense. It stated that Mandelert had in his possession 125 pounds of oleomargarine, having a semblance of butter, with intent to sell it. That does not constitute an offense in law, as the law prohibits the sale of oleomargarine as butter. This was not charged in the indictment, so the demurrer was sustained. In order to hold the defendant the indictment must charge him with passing off oleomargarine as the real product of the meditative bossy.

Reno May Not Be Guilty.

The manslaughter case against Henry Reno is not likely to come to a head, as late developments throw doubt on the charge that Christian Lund met his death at the hands of Reno. The case was continued indefinitely this morning, and the prisoner was released on his own recognizance in the sum of $500. The row in question occurred on the night of Nov. 3, at industrial. Over a game of cards Lund accused Reno of mixing his drinks. Reno told Lund to come outside, and in the scuffle that followed Reno hit Lund in the head with some unknown instrument. Lund lay all night behind a stove wrapped in a blanket and next day walked to his home, a mile and a half away. He went to bed, lived there six weeks, during which time pneumonia set in, and he died Dec. 15. Indirectly it is believed that the fight caused Lund's death, but medical testimony throws so much doubt upon the matter that County Attorney Arbury did not deem it advisable to put the state to the expense of a trial at this time, if at all, so Reno was released.

The cases against George A. Elder for grand larceny in the first degree were continued over the term on motion of J. L. Washburn, Elder's attorney. The original bonds were allowed to stand.

The Highton case was not taken up this morning as Highton's attorney, M. H. Crocker, was engaged in Judge Moor's court, where the case of George N. Holland against the Duluth Engineering and Development company is still on trial. Highton's case was taken up this afternoon.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the jury in the assault case against Michael Haley came in after a deliberation of twenty hours and announced their inability to come to an agreement. They were discharged and Haley was released on bail.

The injunction suit of Henry Truelsen against the city was dismissed by Judge Lewis yesterday afternoon. The decision in the case against the city was in favor of the city. The case was dismissed on the ground of lack of jurisdiction.

Judge Lewis is still indisposed, but he was able to attend court this morning long enough to receive the verdict in the case of Helmer against Merritt and Cheeseborough, which was found by the jury Friday. The verdict awarded the plaintiff $2100. Suit was for $50,000.

THE MINING INSTITUTE.

Third Annual Meeting to be Held in Duluth Next Week.

The third annual meeting of the Lake Superior mining institute will be held in Duluth on March 6 and will continue until March 8. Shortly after the arrival at Duluth of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic train from the East, on Wednesday morning, a train will convey the members to some point on the Mesaba range, probably to Virginia. From Virginia the party will work east on Thursday, arriving in Tower on Thursday evening. On Friday visits will be paid to the mines of the Vermilion range at Soudan and Ely, and the party will be returned to Duluth the same evening. A detailed program will be issued later.

Both the Duluth & Iron Range and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railways have promised special trains, so that there will be no delay in getting from place to place. Meetings for the reading and discussion of papers and transaction of business will be held in Virginia and Tower.

A Ladies' Auxiliary.

At the close of the regular meeting of the A. O. U. H. yesterday afternoon a number of the lady friends of the members assembled and formed a branch of the ladies' auxiliary of the order which will be known as Division No. 1, Daughters of Erin. The members are very enthusiastic over the formation of the new organization and predict a great future for it. Another meeting of the ladies will be held during the week, after which application will be made to the state officers of the order for a charter.

Is Now Laid Up.

It turns out that Fred Partridge was jolted up worse, when he was run over by a horse on West Superior street Friday night, than he thought. Today his bruises were so painful that he was unable to appear and perform his usual duties in the city controller's office. It is not thought, however, that his injuries are at all dangerous or serious and in all probability he will soon be himself again.

HAYWARD CASE.

The Defendant Still on the Stand, Being Cross-Examined by Assistant County Attorney Hall.

An Attempt to Show that Harry Loaned Miss Gung Money in a Loose Manner.

Many Sharp Tilts Between the Two, but Hall Was Unable to Entrap the Witness.

It Came Out that Harry and Elder Stewart Have Been Enemies for Two Years.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 26.—When the trial of the Hayward murder case was resumed this morning, it was announced that County Attorney Nye could not be present, owing to a funeral in the family, and the defendant, who was still on the witness stand, was turned over to the tender mercies of Assistant County Attorney A. H. Hall for cross-examination. Mr. Hall plunged at once into the questions of the various loans made by Hayward to Miss Gung, the aim of his questions apparently being to show that Harry had lent the dressmaker money freely without security and in a loose and unbusinesslike manner. Harry's connection with the loan Miss Gung made on the flour mill at Hanel, and the collection of the loss when it suddenly burned, was thoroughly ventilated, and Harry was asked whether he had not driven out to Hanel with Miss Gung the morning after the fire. This he denied utterly. This and other questions were asked for impeachment purposes, the state proposing to show on rebuttal that Harry is not telling the truth. Harry described how he had turned the lot given him by his father into cash, first by mortgaging and then by disposing of the equity to Elder Stewart. The proceeds had been nearly $10,000, and this he had partially lost at gambling, while the rest he had given to Adry in a sealed envelope and it was put in the safe. He declared that the most money he had ever lost at one sitting was $5,000 at the Twin City Athletic club. The entire morning was taken up in cross-examination with regard to the loans. Mr. Hall went through and through the subject, but was quite unable to entrap the witness into any contradictions which he could not explain. There were many sharp tilts between the two, embittered no doubt by the animosity Harry bears against the assistant prosecutor for arranging the sensational scene at the morgue. Mr. Hall expressed his surprise that Harry should have trusted Adry with money, after learning that he had no conscience and had a mania for crime. Harry replied that he would trust Adry now with money if he gave it to him openly and asked to have it kept for him. "That's the difference between us," he added. "Adry cherishes a grudge and I don't. It's his feeling against me now, and not mine against him."

It also came out that Harry and Elder Stewart had been enemies for two years and that he did not put his money in the bank, but kept it with him, fearing that the elder might get hold of it. At 2 o'clock the attorneys in the case made a request that at the conclusion of the cross-examination of Hayward an adjournment be made until tomorrow morning. The court, however, denied the request. Mr. Hall carried the witness back to his testimony in regard to Miss Gung's securing a box in the safety deposit vault, without scoring a point, as he had hastily passed to the signing of the notes in the Hayward office. "Isn't it true that Blixt's story of what occurred there is true?" asked Mr. Hall. "No, it is not." Mr. Hall read from Hayward's statement to Mayor Eustis, in which he said he had the best of his money, and that he came back to the office after getting the money and stated to him that she had put the money in a box. On the cross-examination, he testified that she did not come back. He was of the opinion that Miss Gung did not come back. The second visit, he thought, he had been confused with her first visit earlier in the day before the notes were signed. He went over various points in his former statement, Hall calling attention to every slight difference and Harry explaining. The cross-examination is still in progress and seems likely to last the day out.

A real cyclone of popularity is being enjoyed by Dr. Price's baking powder among good cooks.

FOR BUILDING OF ROADS.

Bill to Divert a Portion of the Gross Earnings Tax.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 26.—The following are the provisions of the bill introduced today by Mr. Cant for diverting a portion of the gross earnings tax to the building funds of counties containing untaxed railroad lands: The state auditor shall certify to the state treasurer the number of acres of land in each county of this state, and in April of each year, granted by the state of Minnesota, or the territory of Minnesota, or the United States, to any railroad company, and not taxed as other lands are taxed in this state, except such parts of said lands as are held, used or occupied for right-of-way, gravel pits, side tracks, depots, or in any way used in the actual operation or management of any railroad. The state treasurer shall forthwith thereafter pay into the county treasury of each county having such lands, annually, an amount equal to five (5) cents per acre on each acre so certified to be in said county, such payment to be made out of the amount of taxes paid by the railroad companies doing business in this state, and commonly known and designated as the gross earnings tax.

The county treasurer of each county shall, immediately upon the receipt of such sum, notify the county auditor of the amount so received, and the county auditor shall thereupon determine the number of acres of such land in each of the towns of said county on the first day of April of that year, and thereupon draw a warrant upon the county treasurer payable into the town road and bridge fund of each town for an amount equal to five (5) cents per acre for each acre of such lands so determined to be in said town, and the county treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay said warrant out of the moneys received from the state treasurer aforesaid.

FILED ITS SELECTIONS.
The St. Paul & Duluth Takes All the Lands Granted to It.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 26.—Under the law of 1893, requiring railroad companies which received land grants to complete the selection of the lands under these grants within two years, the St. Paul & Duluth road has filed its selections with the state auditor. Under the old grant of the Lake Superior & Mississippi company the St. Paul & Duluth is entitled to 60,000 acres, and under the grant of the Taylor's Falls, Lake Superior & Mississippi about 1,240 acres. These lands have all been selected and now all that remains is to make the adjustment.

INDICTED FOR FORGERY.
An Iowa Ex-County Auditor Charged With Altering Records.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 26.—A Mason City, Iowa, special to the Journal says: The grand jury has indicted ex-County Auditor Van Auker for forgery of the public records. He had a dispute with the county board over fees, and it is charged that to make good his case he altered the records.

REHABILITATION OF SILVER.
Favorable Report on the Plan for a Commission of Nine.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The senate finance committee at its meeting today ordered a favorable report on the amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill to provide for the appointment of a commission of nine on behalf of the United States to attend an international conference on the rehabilitation of silver, in case one should be decided upon. There were some verbal amendments, but the provision for the selection of three members from the senate and three from the house was retained.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

The State Senate Today Approved the Bill for Establishing a Normal School at Duluth.

Senator Spencer Made a Strong Argument and Was Supported by Senators Yale and Stevens.

Senator Greer Talked Against It and of Course the Bill Was Recommended for Passage.

The Appointment of Sam Fullerton as State Game Commissioner Was Confirmed in Open Session.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 26.—In the senate today, the bill establishing a normal school at Duluth came up for discussion. Senator Spencer said it was simply a bill establishing the school. There was no appropriation called for at the present time. "The bill simply established the school. That was all there was to this simple bill."

"And still I am not satisfied as to what this bill means," said Senator Greer. "The questions to be decided first were whether the state wanted any normal schools at all, and if so, whether Duluth was the golden spot wherein to locate it. The state was now supporting five normal schools at a great expense, but it was not yet settled whether they wanted to continue on this way. He doubted whether Duluth was the proper place for a school, as Duluth was not surrounded by towns and villages like the other places which had normal schools."

Senator Spencer said that the people of this district wanted the school, and it was a question of justice. Last year St. Louis county contributed $375,000 to the state, as compared with $17,000 which came from Senator Greer's county. The sixth congressional district comprised almost one-half of the state, and St. Louis county had never had a dollar given it for public institutions.

St. Louis county and the three adjoining counties alone could supply a normal school. They employed 600 teachers and had to go from Maine to California to get them. Duluth was now spending $10,000 annually in normal school work. He went on to present a formidable array of figures showing that St. Louis county was doing, and would be doing, a great deal more for the state than any other county.

Senator Greer insisted that most of the money came from royalties on school lands in which Duluth had no more interest than the rest of the state.

Senator Yale was surprised at Senator Greer's arguments. He knew what the position of Senator Spencer was, for twenty-eight years ago, he had stood there and fought for a normal school for Winona.

Senator Yale, continuing, said everything almost that could be said in favor of the Duluth school. He announced that St. Louis county made it a point to hire none but teachers graduated from normal schools, and he had no doubt that the state would be benefited by the establishment of a normal school at Duluth.

The Weather.

U. S. AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT, WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Feb. 25.—The barometer is highest in the Ohio valley and lowest in Northern Alberta; it has risen about four-tenths of an inch over Lake Huron with a decided fall in temperature in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.
The coldest weather reported this morning is from 20 to 25 degrees above zero in Northern Michigan; elsewhere the temperature ranges from 20 to 34 degrees above zero, being highest in Arkansas.

A disturbance in the Southwest is attended by heavy clouds and rain over Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas, with heavy rain in the last two states.

Duluth weather reported at 7 a. m. today, 23 degrees above zero; maximum yesterday, 30 degrees
above zero.

DELETH, Feb. 26.—Forecast for Duluth and vicinity till 7 p. m. tomorrow: Fair and slightly warmer, today and tonight; continued warm Wednesday, with increasing cloudiness; southerly winds.

Sending Pictures by Telegraph.

The recent successful exhibition by W. W. Lowd, of this city, of his invention for transmitting pictures by telegraph has aroused considerable interest throughout the country. As a result, Mr. Lowd has been flooded with letters and telegrams inquiring as to the methods of his invention. He will not make his process known, however, until he has secured the patent, which is a wise precaution.

Mr. Lowd, it may be stated, is not the pioneer in this field. Several years ago the Boston Transcript published a detailed description of a method of reproducing pictures at the farther end of a telegraph wire by aid of electricity.

Alexander Graham Bell found that by varying the strength of an electric current in consequence with sound waves he could transmit articulate speech nearly to the ends of the earth. Edison, Taintor and Bell found that by causing a stylus attached to the center of a diaphragm to which words were spoken to be lightly upon a revolving wax cylinder, they could engrave upon that wax and preserve for all time the characteristics of those words; the undulatory gravel line in the soft matrix became the mechanical fac-simile of articulate speech, which required merely a reversal of the process to reproduce the original sound waves.

If the diaphragm stylus were allowed to trip over the undulatory gravel line it would give out spoken words. If it were caused to vary the strength of an electric current those undulations might be reproduced in sound at a distant point in a telephone receiver, or, by causing this current to actuate an electromagnetic device, a duplicate engraved record could be made in wax at the distant point which could be made to utter again the original words.

The phonograph inscription is the mechanical record of sounds. Can we make a mechanical record of light in all its various gradations? To this question the Boston paper replies. Certainly and quite as simply. Take ordinary gelatine, in which is dissolved a little bichromate of potassium. This, when exposed to the action of light, becomes insoluble in warm water, whereas before such ex-posure it will be dissolved away. If, therefore, we expose such a plate beneath a photographic negative, those portions which are exposed to the strong light will become totally insoluble; those that are entirely shielded will remain soluble, and those affected by the subdued light—the half tones—will have their solubility affected in proportion to the amount of light received. It remains now only to sponge the plate with warm water to have a photograph in relief wherein the high lights will have the greatest elevations and the shadows will be depressed.

If now this relief photograph were rolled upon a phonograph cylinder and placed upon the machine, its stylus, discussing a fine spiral path, would rise and fall as the picture passed beneath it, just as it does when following the phono-gram. It is not sound, however, that is wanted in this case, but another record of the stylus as it passes over the relief photograph causes to vary in similar manner the strength of an electric current.

This undulatory current passing over an ordinary telephone or telegraph wire actuates a similar stylus at the farther end, which, bearing upon a revolving wax cylinder, engraves in the wax an exact reproduction in elevation of the path over which the first stylus has passed. From this cylinder an electrotype may be taken, flattened out and placed upon the press. The graving tool is made V-shaped so that as it cuts deeper it cuts wider, and in printing produces blacker lines. Following the process, it will be seen that the relief photo in gelatine printed from a negative is a positive, and this may be produced at the distant point either as a positive or a negative. Whether Mr. Lowd's invention follows this process or is an entirely different and original method, is not known.

International Postage Stamp.

The United States consul at Chemtates in a recent report to the state department that negotiations have been opened by the German government with other members of the international postal union relative to the issue of an international postage stamp. Such a stamp has been proposed at various times in different quarters, but has never met with any very encouraging reception. This time it appears that almost all the more important countries concerned, excepting the United States, have at last in principle agreed to the project. An official conference of the powers interested has been suggested, in order to put the matter into tangible form, but it is more than likely that it will be postponed until the next meeting of the Universal Postal union, which, by the way, is to be held at Washington, in this country.

Since the formation of the postal union in the early 70s, says the Omaha Bee, no little progress has been made in the direction of uniform international postal facilities. The uniform rate of 5-cent foreign postage has been almost everywhere adopted. If, however, there was an international postage stamp, designed especially for this part of the postal business, it is believed communication between different countries would be greatly simplified and powerfully stimulated. The postage stamps being good in any country belonging to the union, could readily be used to remit small sums without payment of exchange. A person writing from information from a foreign country could also enclose return postage for the answer, something now next to impossible.

In fact, as the Bee thus points out, an international postage stamp would give correspondence throughout the entire postal union the same facilities as are now accorded correspondence within the boundaries of a single nation. Up to this time the national pride of the delegates from each country has prevented the acceptance of any plan for international postage. It begins to look as if this jealousy will be overcome and a favorable agreement reached at the next conference of the postal union.

Because Miss Anna Gould and the Countess de Castellane announced their purpose to attend a matinee at the Harlem opera house Saturday that playhouse was audience it ever held. The Chicago Times considers this a suggestion for Chicago theater managers. A box party should include all the Windy City's titled nobility—the duke of Pullman, Chevalier Onahan and Sir J. Foster Rhodes—would put the stamp of aristocracy forever upon the fortunate theater.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles evidently thinks last Friday night at the banquet of the Newspaper Publishers' association in New York. "I have a son," he said,
"who says that if he does not go into the army he will go into the navy. If he follows his father's wishes he would go into the profession of journalism. The journals of the country have its fate in their hands. By the education of the people must the republic stand or fall."

The serious illness of Lord Rosebery, the British prime minister, will cause much excitement in political circles in London. The premier has been suffering from influenza, which is epidemic in the British capital, and is said to be in a very weak condition. His political opponent, Mr. Balfour, is also ill with the same disease.

The London Statist, a financial journal, is of opinion that we are to have worse times than at present; that further loans will soon be necessary; gold will go to premium and disappear from circulation.

With the London Times, it agrees that the best remedy for the crisis is a big loan to call in and cancel the greenbacks.

Many pupils in secondary schools and even in colleges are nowadays "entirely unable to understand a great mass of allusions in the masterpieces of English poetry and prose." These are allusions to the Bible, and Mr. Warner, in the Editor's Study in the March Harper's, makes a sharp criticism of ignorance of the Bible for intelligent people.

The attempt to prevent Col. Ingersoll delivering a lecture at Hoboken, N. J., failed, of course. But it was a splendid advertisement for Bob, and as he is on the lecture platform for the money that is in it, he is not kicking very much over the Hoboken incident.

A bill has passed the Montana legislature making gambling illegal. This is the first time that any attempt has been made in that state to stamp out the gambling dens, which have been regularly licensed since early territorial days.

The recent attempt to "take up the pooling bill in the senate, which was defeated by a large majority, probably settles the fate of that measure, so far as the present congress is concerned. And it should settle it for all time.

The possibilities of this country are exemplified by the fact that Fred Douglass, although for twenty-one years a slave, left an estate valued at $500,000.

Let us hope that the St. Paul Pioneer Press will not feel inspired to indicate editorial on "beautiful spring."

Only four more working days for the present congress. Let every one be thankful the end is so near.

It is to be regretted that congress has failed to pass a bankruptcy bill.

Western hospitality is proverbial and the food served is cooked with Dr.
Price's baking powder.

One Day.

I will tell you when they met;
In the lamp of day of spring; Elderly couple looked kindly at But primrose and violet were While meeting birds made haste to sing And build with right good will.

I will tell you when they parted;
When plumpous autumn leaves were brown, Then they parted heavy laden;
For this they wait, one waits in pain.
Except some day in Paradise; Beyond the sea of death love lies Forever, yesterday, today; Angels ask them: "Is it well?"
And they all answer: "Yes!"

—Christina Rossetti.

Good Thing—Push It Along.

Denver Republican: The decrease in immigration in 1894, compared with 1893, is due in a large degree to the fact that business in this country is unremunerative. Information has been conveyed to Italy showing that labor can not but little employment in the United States, and the effect has been to check the coming of men of the working class.
This is one of the few good results of the business depression. It would be a good thing for the United States if the impression that there is but little for working men to do in this country should prevail in Southern Europe for a long time to come.

Picturesqueness in the Pulpit.

Chicago Herald: A New York clergyman delivered his sermon Sunday by sharpening a carving knife in the pulpit in order to illustrate to the assembled congregation how a steel sharpened steel, minds are enlightened by contact with kindred minds. He might continue his picturesque pulpit methods and at the same time show how easy it is for a good man to refrain from profanity by utilizing his newly sharpened carving knife Sunday to carve a duck in the pulpit.

Not the Best or Easiest Way.

Printer's Ink: Doing business among a reading public without advertising is a good deal like climbing the stairs of a factory building when the elevator is running.

Not Impossible.

Minneapolis Journal: Certainly, if the lakes are not kept navigable all the year round the long-talked-of plan of keeping the Hudson straits clear of ice from July to December will be executed. Experts consider it possible to keep the channel open from Hudson bay to the Atlantic at least five months out of the year and the mechanical ingenuity of Americans should certainly dispel the long-held delusion that the lakes must be ice bound for six months out of the year.

A Rank Injustice.

Grand Rapids Herald: Mr. McInnis, one of the St. Louis county representatives in the state legislature, has introduced a bill extending the terms of county treasurers to four years. Up to date there has been no protest on the part of county officials whose terms of office will be thus vitally affected, but it is in order for them to appear before the committee on elections and present their arguments against this unreasonable and unequal for imposition of two years' hard labor which they did not originally contract to do. It is a rank injustice that is being attempted, and the county treasurers of the state should be aided by the citizens to strangle this attempt on the part of Mr. McInnis to inflict two additional years' service upon these worthy servants.

Where Reform is Necessary.

Louisville Courier-Journal: There is a movement in England to have the government take charge of amusements.
There is a growing impression in this country that the government ought to take charge of many of our dramatic and musical enterprises and limit their performances to the penitentiary.

Symptoms of the Millennium.

Chicago Tribune: The Democratic majority in the Texas legislature has adopted, by a vote of 76 to 10, a report unseating a white Democrat and giving the place to a black Republican. Are the fountains of the great deep breaking up? Such a thing would have been impossible a little over a year ago. As a matter of fact, no colored Republican a year ago would have had the temerity to have contested the seat of a white Democrat. The world is moving; even that bit of the southern section of the northern hemisphere of it.

Demand a National Law.

Chicago Record: The great diversity of opinion as to what is a reasonable compensation for sleeping car service has caused the senate to fix a maximum rate should be done, if at all, by a national board, like the interstate commerce commission, if it has the power to do so, and if not, then by an act of congress. Of course, the taint of venality is on many of the bills in question, for the legislative sludgebagger is quick to turn the people's grievances to his own benefit. If all legislators were honest the matter of sleeping car rates would have been adjusted to everybody's satisfaction long ago.

HAS LEASED THE SIX.

Union Transit Company Has Secured the Crescent Line Boats.

A telegram was received today announcing that the Union Transit company has absorbed the Crescent Transportation company's line and had leased its six boats for a period of three years. The boats are the Eber Ward, John M. Nicol, W. H. Stevens, S. F. Hodge, John V. Moran and James Fisk, Jr. This gives the Union Transit company eight boats, the other two being the Avon and Portage.

John Gordon, of Buffalo, is the manager of the company and John P. Gordon is the Duluth representative.

The telegram was received by A. Robinson, manager of the Crescent company, this morning, and contained a simple announcement and a statement that particulars would follow. It is presumed that the Union Transit company will connect with the Lackawanna road as did the Crescent company.

HIGHTON'S TESTIMONY

The Famous High Roller Was Placed on the Stand This Morning and Gave His Story.

He Still Maintains That He is One-Fifth Owner in Some Big Pacific Coast Mine.

His Physician Prescribed Whisky for Heart Failure and He Immediately Purchased Three Gallons.

"I am a one-fifth owner of the Ornament and Surprise mine, of Greenhorn mountain, Grant county, Oregon," said A. G. Highton when he made his debut in Duluth last September, and so he again on the witness stand this morning. His case was taken up yesterday afternoon and the old story of his operations in Duluth by which his check on the Bank of Commerce of Buffalo secured for him a good time and a special train to St. Paul was told by Ticket Agent W. S. Whitten and supplemented by B. W. Summers, of the Omaha, and other witnesses.

A good deal of Highton's history was told by himself on the witness stand this morning. He has, according to his story, had a somewhat varied career. The first occupation developed by the testimony was when he was advertising agent for three New York trade journals. Afterwards he was the Buffalo agent for the Century dictionary, and in that capacity he said he sent $65,000 to the company. From Buffalo he drifted to Portland, where the Ornament and Surprise mine entered into his life and caused the expedition which was so much trouble to him.

At one time he lived in Denver and Canon City, Ore., and he admitted being arrested there. From Portland he went to San Francisco, where he has a brother, Henry E. Highton, whom he said was one of the best attorneys in the city. Then he went to Boston to raise money for the mine. He negotiated with the firm of Kitter, Peabody & Co., and said a twentieth interest in the mine to them for $25,000. Of this amount $14,570 was to have been sent to Chicago, and the remainder, $10,430, was to have been deposited in the Bank of Buffalo. It was on this sum, he said, that he was drawing when he made the checks for which he was arrested.

Whisky Was Prescribed.
He could not explain why the money was not deposited there. He had not heard that the contract with Kitter, Peabody & Co. had been cancelled, and he did not know whether he would have been told or not if it had. He thought the publicity given to his arrest had lost him a good many friends. He left Boston after completing the arrangements for the sale of a part of the mine, and came to Duluth on the steamship India, on his way to Portland. At Cleveland he stopped to secure medical advice, and was told that he was suffering from enlargement of the heart. Whisky was prescribed for him, and he got three gallons.

Although before that he was a moderate drinker, from then until he confined himself to a drinking bout in the Duluth jail his recollections were very vague, though he could remember a little of the time. Frequently through his cross examination he would attempt to explain things and it took the combined efforts of the court and counsel for both sides to get him to confine him to self to questions asked him. After his examination was finished the case was rested by both sides, and an adjournment was taken until the afternoon, when the case was argued before the jury.

Will Not Be Dropped.
County Attorney Arbury said this morning that the statement was not a mistake. They were merely continued over the term because the attorneys in the case have been too much pressed for time to prepare for trial, and the cases will come to trial next term.

The Highton case is the last criminal case to be tried in the criminal calendar having melted surprisingly. Thomas Robb this morning withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the second degree. The case against Charles Lewis was dismissed on motion of the county attorney.

In the case of George N. Holland against the Duluth Iron Mining and Development company, judgment was ordered yesterday for the plaintiff. The case of Jacob Judnick against Frank Zaic et al was on trial at noon before Judge Moor.

Cryptic Wedding Anniversary.
Mr. and Mrs. James H. Darling celebrated the crystal anniversary of their wedding at their home, 532 West Third street, last evening. It was a most pleasant affair and about thirty of their friends were present and congratulated them and extended their wishes for many more years of wedded happiness. The house was decorated with beautiful flowers. Mrs. Ford, mother of Mrs. Darling, was among those present.

A FAVORITE IS BOOKED.

The Gelly Combine Will Make J. E. Meyers Dairy Inspector.

The Duluth commission men are considerably worked up over the result of their fight for the appointment of a dairy inspector for Duluth. Their work to that end has all the appearance of being successful for promises have been made by persons who are able to fulfill them that the office would be created and a local inspector of dairy products would be appointed for Duluth.

Just about the time the commission men were congratulating themselves upon the success of their efforts comes the intelligence from a reliable source that, while the appointment will be made, the man who will get it will not be one especially pleasing to anybody concerned. In short, the Gelly ring will dictate the appointment and secure it for one of its pets in payment for faithful work to the ring. While the man who is to be appointed may be all right in himself, those interested object seriously to having an office of so much importance to them made political pap and given to a man in total disregard of his capabilities for the office.

Last Saturday a large petition was sent in to the Duluth delegation in the legislature, urging the appointment of Charles J. Birch, a West Duluth grocer, to the position. It was signed by all the commission men and large numbers of leading merchants and business men. Birch has been accustomed to the handling of dairy products for a number of years. He would undoubtedly make a good man, and he seems to be the unanimous choice of commission men, grocers and all who are interested. Notwithstanding that, he is not likely from the present outlook to secure the appointment.

The name of Adeline Snyder, at present a deputy sheriff, has been favorably mentioned for the place. Yesterday, after the petition for Birch's appointment had been sent in, Representative Cant said to a prominent grocer that the place would be given to E. Meyers, a very successful treasurer. While nothing is said against those men personally, the appointment of either will not be satisfactory, and will probably result in bringing all interested over to the growing majority of those determined to neglect no opportunity of showing their opposition to ring rule in this case. The commission men say that they want an experienced man for the place, not one whose only experience with dairy products has consisted of handling political pap.

A fair complexion comes from pure food. What woman would not prefer food cooked with Dr. Price's Baking powder.
